Leslie,2005-04-26 Philadelphia architect Louis I Kahn 1901 1974 was one of the most influential American architects of the twentieth century His work widely recognized as a link between modern and classical traditions is distinguished by its simple yet monumental design In this book Thomas Leslie shows that Kahn was also an extraordinarily gifted technologist and that his careful presentation of engineering principles set the stage for the high tech movement in Europe and America The examination of four major buildings the Yale Art Gallery the Richards Medical Laboratories the Salk Institute and the Kimbell Art Museum and several smaller projects by Kahn reveals this hidden theme an expressive integration of construction structure and services into buildings that dramatically highlight the processes involved in their making and function Previously unpublished drawings construction photographs and sketches complement new diagrams that illustrate the profound technical poetry within Kahn s buildings Because of its new approach to Kahn s work this book will be a vital resource for architects and designers both as a comprehensive analysis of these buildings and as a new interpretation of their constructed meaning Students and educators will also benefit from the book s focus on the role of basic building science in the design and construction of four major monuments of late twentieth century architecture 100 black and white illustrations The Louis I. Rome and Venice Elisabetta Barizza,2021-07-22 This book examines the idea of organism in the work of Louis I Kahn from the turning point of Rome to the project for Venice It presents an original interpretation of the work of Kahn during one of the most fruitful periods of his career when he was working on a particular design method based on an entirely novel way of interacting with the past Beginning with a meticulous documentation and analysis of Kahn s experiences in the twenty years from 1930 to 1950 the book sheds new light on the relationship between Kahn s work and the modern movement The arguments are supported by case studies including that of the Palazzo dei Congressi in Venice based on Kahn's words like his lessons in Venice at IUA International University of Art in 1971 and others as the Trenton Bath House the Salk Institute La Jolla the Kimbell Museum Fort Worth the Yale Gallery and the Mellon Center for British Art New Haven and more Unlike much of the by now well established literature on Kahn's work Louis I Kahn in Rome and Venice suggests that the basic premise of Kahn's invention is the idea of spatial constructive organism which explains how he created forms that were inextricably anchored in the past without imitating any one kind of ancient architecture The main objective of the book is to explain Kahn's methodology to architects and students showing how he was able to design an architectural object with the characteristics of the best designed objects organisms in which each part contributes with the whole to creating something made of indivisible parts
