Current Trends in Pragmatics Piotr Cap, Joanna Nijakowska, 2009-03-26

The volume brings together twenty articles written by established linguists, language philosophers, sociologists, and psychologists sharing their academic interest in a broad and interdisciplinary field of linguistic pragmatics. The collection consists of four thematic parts: Pragmatics and Cognition, The Semantics-Pragmatics Interface, Conversational and Text Analysis, and Pragmatics, Social Research, and Didactics. It aims to contribute to the debate on the present day status of pragmatics by examining three fundamental issues. The first involves the question of the current explanatory power of pragmatics, namely how successful is the existing apparatus of pragmatics and the basic level parameters theories of speech acts, relevance, implicature, presupposition, deixis, politeness, etc. in the elucidation of various aspects of meaning. The second issue involves the methodological assistance that pragmatics might need in order to enhance its explanatory power. The third has to do with the fuzzily defined boundaries of the discipline of pragmatics and the resulting temptation for analysts to concentrate solely on its fragmented sub domains. As the collection unfolds, these issues form a continuum which it seems is often a process that a linguist goes through as his or her methodological awareness deepens. Thus the orientation of the volume towards the analyst and the analytic mind set as well as the attempted balance in presentation of the alternative approaches seem the major theoretical characteristic of the book.

Original Lead with Love Jack Russell, 2024-08-26

Have you always known love? A dear friend asked Jack as they were driving home on a dark, bitterly cold winter night. It took a mile or so before he responded. Yes. He felt the prevalent darkness deep in his being. It was an emotionally turbulent moment in his life. His wife had recently died after a short illness. But he also experienced love in the deepest moments of his despair, bringing rays of light and hope to the darkness Yes he could truly say that he had experienced Love s comfort guidance healing and protection in many many ways throughout his life His friend continued What is this Love that you ve known Her question was the beginning of a focused journey of exploration and discovery lasting well over a decade In 1997 Jack created a cutting edge quantum leadership model for the 21st century Self Sustaining Leadership At its core it says we are all connected entangled together in a web of life Leadership is about relationships how we connect with others and ourselves in ways that contribute to our collective well being productivity health and peace It is Love a universal principle that sustains this connection that connects us heart to heart But how do we live this connection with ourselves and others in our daily lives How does Love guide us to know what is the morally right thing to do in different situations How do we practice loving ourselves so we can love others more deeply How does fear and love motivate us in everything we do What does Love have to do with leadership Jack takes us on a journey of discovery in answering these questions and more In doing so he shows us how to lead with Love As I read Jack s work one reader offers it feels like he s sharing with me like we re having a conversation He speaks to my heart This book is about connecting heart to heart
