Love Debate Poems Of Christine De Pizan:

The Love Debate Poems of Christine de Pizan Barbara K. Altmann, Christine de Pisan, Christine (de Pisan), 1998 Altmann is making a major contribution by providing this much needed text of Christine's significant but inadequately known debate poems together with essential philological codicological and historical background annotations together with a landmark literary critical preface Nadia Margolis editor The Christine de Pizan Society Newsletter This new edition of Christine de Pizan's love debate poems supercedes the only other modern edition 1886 by working from all existing fifteenth century versions and by using as a base manuscript the version now generally acknowledged as the definitive copy The poems Livre du Debat de deux amans the Livre des Trois jugemens and the Livre du Dit de Poissy are spirited discussions of approximately 2000 lines concerning the finer points of late medieval love doctrine and protocol Written early in the fifteenth century they are significant both because of their contribution to the tradition of debates and dits by such authors as Guillaume de Machaut Jean Froissart and Alain Chartier and because their author is arguably the most important female writer in the west before Austen Alongside the texts Altmann provides the first extended study of these debates in their own right offering a literary historical background to the form analyzing Christine's use of the traditional form and content of the love debate and providing sections on the codicology and philology of the poems She also provides an introduction summary and textual notes for each of the poems as well as a glossary for nonspecialist readers Barbara K Altmann is associate professor of French at the University of Oregon and author of articles on French medieval verse in French Studies and elsewhere

Joan of Arc and Christine de Pizan's Ditié Karen Green, 2021-06-29 Grounded in a close reading of the records of Joan's trial and rehabilitation on the early letters announcing her arrival at Chinon and on three literary works Christine de Pizan's Diti Martin le Franc's Le Champion des dames and Alain Chartier's Trait de l'Esperance this controversial work argues that serious historians should accept that Joan was trained It proposes that she was identified and taught how to behave in the expectation of the fulfillment of the Charlemagne Prophecy and other prophecies from the Joachite tradition It explores the possibility that Christine de Pizan who had been promoting these prophecies from the beginning of the century had some hand in the process that resulted in Joan's appearance and demonstrates at the very least that there are many links connecting Christine de Pizan to the knights who fought with Joan

The Romance of the Rose and the Making of Fourteenth-century English Literature Philip Knox, 2022 This title provides a new account of the literary history of fourteenth century England arguing that many of this period's most distinctive literary experiments emerge through a productive dialogue with the Romance of the Rose a jointly authored medieval French poem An Anthology of Medieval Love Debate Poetry, 2021-07-26 An accurate elegant rendering of major late medieval texts crucial to our understanding of the courtly tradition and of Chaucer Ideal for classroom use William Calin University of Florida Elegant and graceful translations of the most important authors of the late Middle Ages each work brings a new take on the topic of love

A superb resource for students and scholars in comparative literature and medieval studies Wendy Pfeffer University of Louisville This very first anthology of medieval love debate poems comprising five masterpieces of the genre explores the many compelling mysteries raised by the experience of romantic love Some have been translated into modern English for the first time With wit ingenuity and humor these poems suggest intriguing answers to what contemporary inquirers would call questions of gender and sexual politics Who loves better men or women Are men or women more faithful in love Are women obligated to reciprocate the attentions of an ardent male What qualities in a lover do women most desire The contributors provide a foundation for the love debate genre and medieval literary treatments of love as well as pertinent facts of literary history and biographical details about the poets whose work spans more than 100 years The volume features works that have been recognized for centuries as central texts of the medieval tradition Christine de Pizan's Debate of the Two Lovers Alain Chartier's Debate of the Four Ladies Geoffrey Chaucer's The Legend of Good Women and Guillaume de Machaut's Judgment of the King of Bohemia and Judgment of the King of Navarre Each translation is appropriately annotated for student use R Barton Palmer is Calhoun Lemon Professor of Literature at Clemson University Barbara K Altmann is associate professor of French at the University of Oregon

The Concept of Woman Prudence Allen, 2006-01-26 The culmination of a lifetime's scholarly work this study by Sister Prudence Allen traces the concept of woman in relation to man in Western thought from ancient times to the present This volume is the second in her study in which she explores claims about sex and gender identity in the works of over fifty philosophers both men and women in the late medieval and early Renaissance periods

A Companion to Guillaume de Machaut Deborah McGrady, Jennifer Bain, 2012-08-27 Offering the first comprehensive study of Guillaume de Machaut's vast corpus of text and music the 18 essays in this collection explore the author's engagement with the ethical political and aesthetic concerns of his time Building on interdisciplinary interest in Machaut this collection broadens discussion of his work by exploring overlapping interests in his poetry and music addressing lesser studied writings offering fresh perspectives on lyric authorial voice and performance and engaging more critically with his reception by medieval bookmakers modern editors and the music industry The result is a promising map for future research in the field that will be of interest to students and specialists alike

Birk, 2005 The fifteen century writer Christine de Pizan very adeptly used various aspects of the religious traditions of her day in her confrontation of misogynous beliefs and attitudes In this book the insights of today's feminist scholars in religion are used to demonstrate that one of the more intriguing religious elements Christine drew upon was the female figure of biblical Wisdom While the use of Wisdom in the Medieval era in a general theological and literary sense was quite prevalent Christine took a significant step beyond customary symbolic usage in that Wisdom was called upon as a metaphor for deity to creatively fortify her efforts to claim justice and honor for herself and for all women Wisdom appeared to function for Christine as a reflection in the divine realm of ideal female and male realities in the human This book serves to add a newly discovered source of inspiration for Christine de Pizan's development of her literary theological creations and serves as well to add Christine's remarkable feminist appropriation of the female figure of biblical Wisdom to current feminist theological discussions Poems of Cupid, God of Love Thelma S. Fenster, Mary Carpenter Erler, 2023-08-21 The lightheartedness of these works both masks and enhances their engagement with provocative issues of continuing interest today conduct in society literary practice and moral praxis relations between men and women the value of received wisdom This volume offers texts of two medieval French poems by Christine de Pizan the Epistre au dieu d'amours and Dit de la Rose together with the first translation of these poems into modern English The medieval English adaptation of Christine's Epistre Thomas Hoccleve's The Letter of Cupid is likewise presented here and provided with a modern English translation Finally an eighteenth century version of Hoccleve's poem George Sewall's The Proclamation of Cupid is edited here for the first time The editions of these poems by Christine last edited a century ago are based on the most recent scholarly findings The edition of Hoccleve's poem reproduces its authorial punctuation from manuscript for the first time and thus sheds light on the vexed question of fifteenth century English metrics The lively modern English translations of both can be used by students scholars and the general reader Medieval Feminist Forum, 2007

Christine de Pizan's Changing Opinion Douglas Kelly, 2007 Christine de Pizan's Changing Opinion examines the evolution of Christine's thought on true and false opinion She reflected deeply on the subject of opinion while analyzing evaluating challenging and changing her own and others opinions in her lifelong quest for certain truth Parsing opinion in Christine's writings gives us insight into her thought on controversial issues while highlighting opinions that were and indeed often still are subjective and controversial Especially compelling are those instances in which she changed or modified an opinion The first two chapters treat her definition and description of opinion including her conception of the thinking mind and the arts by which that mind expresses thought they also follow her changing opinion about the nature and power of fortune in the world she knew The next three chapters treat three specific changes in her opinions on misogyny chivalric or courtly love and self interest and enlightened self interest in society The last chapter relates Christine's views on opinion to recent work on subjectivity in medieval writing DOUGLAS KELLY is Professor Emeritus at the University of Wisconsin Madison Women in the Middle Ages: A-J Katharina M.
