Knuth,2010-09-23 A Co Publication of Routledge for the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics NCTM In recent years there has been increased interest in the nature and role of proof in mathematics education with many mathematics educators advocating that proof should be a central part of the mathematics education of students at all grade levels This important new collection provides that much needed forum for mathematics educators to articulate a connected K 16 story of proof Such a story includes understanding how the forms of proof including the nature of argumentation and justification as well as what counts as proof evolve chronologically and cognitively and how curricula and instruction can support the development of students understanding of proof Collectively these essays inform educators and researchers at different grade levels about the teaching and learning of proof at each level and thus help advance the design of further empirical and theoretical work in this area By building and extending on existing research and by allowing a variety of voices from the field to be heard Teaching and Learning Proof Across the Grades not only highlights the main ideas that have recently emerged on proof research but also defines an agenda for future study Minding the Gap Nancy Hoffman,Joel Vargas,Andrea Venezia,2007 Minding the Gap argues that in today s highly competitive global economy all young people need a postsecondary education Yet only one in ten students from the lowest economic quintile in the United States currently earns a postsecondary credential This timely and instructive book from Jobs for the Future explores policies and practices that would quickly enable a larger number of low income and first generation college students to earn postsecondary degrees In doing so Minding the Gap calls for a system that thoroughly integrates secondary and postsecondary education a system in which a college degree is the goal for all students Minding the Gap is an invaluable resource for policymakers and practitioners interested in eliminating the gap between secondary and postsecondary education It focuses on those factors that must be addressed if the gap is to be eliminated the lack of coordination between secondary and college curricula dramatically different approaches to funding for public schools and higher education and the lack of coordinated data systems spanning the educational continuum from kindergarten through college This is a mustread for all those interested in increasing the number of American college graduates Freeman A Hrabowski III President University of Maryland Baltimore County This comprehensive collection offers a bracing examination of the anachronistic
