

Narrative Form

First person narrative means writing from the "I" point of view.

I walked down the alley.

I picked up the phone.

I thought about it, then shook my head.

I told myself I didn't care, but I hurried to baseball practice anyway.

Third person narrative form is writing from the omniscient point of view.

He walked down the alley.

She picked up the phone.

Maia thought about it, then shook her head.

Zach told himself he didn't care, but hurried to baseball practice anyway.

Second person is the "you" point of view, the imperative (command) form

Walk down the alley for exercise.

When the phone rings, you should answer it.

If it's not right for you, don't do it.

You may not like baseball, but you should go to practice anyway.

The Dynamics of Narrative Form European Society for the Study of English, 2004 With the emergence of postclassical narratology it has become necessary to take stock of ongoing developments against the backdrop of established aspects of research in the field The contributions to this volume employ some of the recent epistemological and methodological models in an attempt to resolve a number of unsettled issues while charting out potential vistas for new themes in narrative studies

Narrative Form in History and Fiction Leo Braudy, 1978

Narrative Complexity in Christopher Nolan's "Memento". Narrative Structure, Unreliability, Fabula Construction and Cinematography as Key Elements for the Spectator's Manipulation Claudia Rumms, 2015-10-16 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject Film Science grade 1 3 University of Münster language English abstract In my term paper I will examine the narrative structure in Memento which switches between chronological narration and reversed temporality With respect to this unique narrative structure I will take a closer look at the black and white and colour sequences the opening sequence and the outstanding and resolvent scene 22 A especially regarding the cinematography used In the further course of my work you will learn of the essential role of the unreliable narrator regarding my thesis and finally what impact the fabula construction in Memento has on his viewers Causes and their effects are basic to narrative but they take place in time This quotation from Bordwell s and Thompson s work Film Art an Introduction does not only show a fundamental principle of narration but furthermore depicts a possibility to manipulate the spectator's understanding of a story. Christopher Nolan's Memento is one example of what a complex narration can be. The film shows two separate stories of Leonard, an ex insurance investigator who suffers anterograde amnesia and attempts to find the murderer of his wife, which is the last thing he can remember. On the one hand, there is a forward moving storyline in the black and white scenes, while the other one, the colour sequences, tells the story backwards. Although the story behind the film is rather simple, the narrative structure is extremely complex and clever, which demands constant attention from its spectators. This term paper will deal with the methods used in Memento which mislead the audience's understanding of the story. My thesis is therefore Narrative complexity in Christopher Nolan's Memento. Narrative structure, Narrator's unreliability, fabula construction and cinematography as key elements for the spectator's manipulation. Apart from the film Memento, the central literature I will work with is the essay by Stefano Ghislotti Narrative Comprehension Made Difficult: Film Form and Mnemonic Devices in Memento, the documentary Anatomy of a Scene about the making of Memento, a text by Andy Klein named Everything You Wanted to Know about Memento and different filmic narrativity by Jakob Lothe, David Herman and Edward Branigan. In addition to that, there is a self-generated sequence analysis attached to the term paper in order to have an overall view of the scenes. I take a closer look at The Discipline of History and the History of Thought M.C. Lemon, 2002-06-01.

Although much has been written of the nature of history and its disciplinary problems, less attention has been paid to the history of thought. M.C. Lemon's rigorously philosophical work first reasserts the discipline of history in general as narrative based before pursuing the methodological implications for the history of thought. This original work of scholarship will raise the level of argument in philosophy of history and provoke debate among historians, philosophers and political theorists. Annotated Forms of Federal Procedure Frank Olds Loveland, 1922. Encyclopedia of Forms and Precedents for Pleading and Practice, at Common Law, in Equity, and Under the Various Codes and Practice Acts William Henry Michael, William Mack, Howard Pervear Nash, Thomas Edward O'Brien, James Cockcroft, 1898. Ballad Theory and Technique, 1913. Barber Asphalt Paving Company V. Standard Asphalt & Rubber Company, 1926. Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work National Conference on Social Welfare, 1886. Financial Handbook Robert Hester Montgomery, 1925. The Content of the Form Hayden White, 1990-08-01. Hayden White probes the notion of authority in art and literature and examines the problems of meaning, its production, distribution and consumption in different historical epochs. In the end, he suggests the only meaning that history can have is the kind that a narrative imagination gives to it. The secret of the process by which consciousness invests history with meaning resides in the content of the form in the way our narrative capacities transform the present into a fulfillment of a past from which we would wish to have descended. Report Massachusetts Judicial Council, 1926. Albany Law Journal, 1900. The Pacific Reporter, 1915. The Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1890.
