Narrative Settlements Geographies Of British Womens Fiction Between The Wars:

The History of British Women's Writing, 1920-1945 M. Joannou, 2016-01-03 Featuring sixteen contributions from recognized authorities in their respective fields this superb new mapping of women's writing ranges from feminine middlebrow novels to Virginia Woolf's modernist aesthetics from women's literary journalism to crime fiction and from West End drama to the literature of Scotland Ireland and Wales Domestic Modernism, the Interwar Novel, and E.H. Young Chiara Briganti, Kathy Mezei, 2016-12-05 Domestic Modernism the Interwar Novel and E H Young provides a valuable analytical model for reading a large body of modernist works by women who have suffered not only from a lack of critical attention but from the assumption that experimental modernist techniques are the only expression of the modern In the process of documenting the publication and reception history of E H Young's novels the authors suggest a paradigm for analyzing the situation of women writers during the interwar years Their discussion of Young in the context of both canonical and noncanonical writers challenges the generic label and literary status of the domestic novel as well as facile assumptions about popular and middlebrow fiction canon formation aesthetic value and modernity The authors also make a significant contribution to discussions of the everyday and to the burgeoning field of homeculture as they show that the fictional embodiment and inscription of home by writers such as Young Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Ivy Compton Burnett Lettice Cooper E M Delafield Stella Gibbons Storm Jameson and E Arnot Robertson epitomize the long standing symbiosis between architecture and literature or more specifically between the house and the novel Women, Travel, and Writing in the Interwar Era Ann Catherine Hoag, 2024-07-31 Women Travel and Writing in the Interwar Era engages feminist temporal and narrative theories to offer fresh examinations of interwar era accounts by women about travel and movement and considers the use and limitations of time as a subversive force in their texts This book makes a significant contribution to the under examined study of women's travel writing between the wars and synthesises and applies a variety of feminist narrative and postcolonial theories to excavate new understandings of the intersection between women travel and time in writing The book studies the emergence of the aviatrix after the Great War and moves through to the representations of war in women's travel on the brink of World War II Each chapter offers a unique theoretical framework and examines how experiences of time impact perceptions of women's bodies and identities their engagement with history and discourse and the problematic influence on colonialism Women Travel and Writing in the Interwar Era is essential reading to any student or researcher in the field of women's travel writing as well as scholars of gender studies war and interwar history and cultural heritage Intermodernism Kristin Bluemel, 2011-05-27 This collection of original critical essays newly available in paperback launches an ambitious long term project marking out a new period and style in twentieth century literary history Narrative Settlements Jennifer Poulos Nesbitt, 2005-01-01 During the interwar period shifting attitudes toward empire dovetailed with women's achievement of citizenship placing women at the centre of debates about what England would be

Responding to these cultural conditions women writers used novels of place to analyze relationships among space self and nation in England thereby establishing new ways for the country to view itself Jennifer Poulos Nesbitt's Narrative Settlements resituates British women's writing between the wars in light of postcolonial theories of the novel and feminist geography Reading works by Winifred Holtby Vita Sackville West Angela Thirkell Sylvia Townsend Warner Rebecca West and Virginia Woolf Nesbitt argues that renewed attention to setting provides a methodological base for a more nuanced understanding of the aesthetic preoccupations of women writers between the wars She provides not only attentive readings of literature during this contentious time but a convincing argument for looking beyond modernism to locate the significance of interwar literary production

Novelists Against Social Change Kate Macdonald, 2019-02-22 Novelists Against Social Change studies the writing of John Buchan Dornford Yates and Angela Thirkell to show how these conservative authors put their fears and anxieties into their best selling fiction Resisting the threats of change in social class politics the freedom of women and professionalization produced their strongest works
