The humanism of Italy. book II. Erasmus and Luther. book III. The French mind Henry Osborn Taylor, 1920      The History of Science and the New Humanism Michael Novak, 2018-01-16

In this classic work the foremost historian of science in our time George Sarton sums up his reflections on the role of science and of the humanities in our culture Voicing his opposition to the old fashioned humanists on the one hand and to the uneducated men of science and technicians on the other Sarton points out to the former that the humanities without scientific are essentially incomplete He warns the latter that without history without philosophy without arts and letters without a living religion human life on this planet would cease to be worthwhile After outlining his Faith of a Humanist in the opening section Sarton goes on to analyze The History of Science and the History of Civilization to discuss the progress of scientific thought since ancient times in East and West and to propose the solution for the educational and cultural crisis of our time in The New Humanism and in The History of Science and the Problems of Today He concludes not only that science is a source of technological development that has changed the face of the earth and has convulsed our lives for good and evil but that it nonetheless affords the best means of understanding the world its people and the multitude of their relationships Science is the conscience of mankind Included in this edition is Robert M Merton s address before the Sarton Centennial meeting of November 1984 It is a stunning tour de force in its own right providing insights into Sarton teaching and research at Harvard in the 1930s and the personal interaction between Sarton the mentor and Merton the pupil The essay supplements May Sarton s earlier Informal Portrait of George Sarton The Localization of Business Activities in Metropolitan St. Louis Lewis Francis Thomas,1927 book I. The humanism of Italy. book II. Erasmus and Luther. book III. The French mind Henry Osborn Taylor,1920 The Congregationalist and Christian World ,1907 Washington University Studies ,1927 Science and Man Tad S. Clements,1968 Washington University Studies Washington University (Saint Louis, Mo.),1927 The Mythology of Science R. J. Rushdoony,2009-11-16 The mythology of science is its religious devotion to the myth of evolution In evolution man is the highest expression of intelligence and reason and such thinking will not yield itself to submission to a God it views as a human cultural creation useful if at all only in a cultural context Views of origins are dependent on faith and one s position speaks much as to one s religious tenets Evolutionary faith however cannot tolerate any view of the natural world or science that places it under another faith such as the Christian belief in a sovereign causative God Darwin gave an ostensibly scientific justification for man s rebellion against God He put men at the top of the evolutionary ladder allowing them to believe they had realized Satan s lure to Adam and Eve and become as gods knowing determining good and evil Genesis 3 5 We can attack the science of evolution all we want but the battle for our faith true science and our culture is a religious one over the nature of truth Evolution is a religious faith that has become entrenched as a presupposition of modern thought For Christians to argue about the unproven nature of the evolutionary hypothesis or the circular reasoning of its thought is of some value but the essential issue is that two opposing religious faiths are in conflict Evolution is popular because it is such a useful paradigm to sinful men it dispenses with God as a prerequisite of all things But Christianity as a religious faith depends not on proofs that are constructions of man s fallen mind but on the reality of an almighty God who reveals Himself to us by grace Christianity too depends on circular reasoning we even begin and end with faith in God and His revelation The purpose of this book first published in 1967 is to define the nature of the opposing religious systems of thought Christian creationism and Darwinism in its various forms It is a call to urge Christians to stand firm for Biblical six day creationism as a fundamental aspect of their faith in the Creator Twelve Catholic Men of Science Bertram Coghill Alan Windle,1912 School & Society ,1921
