Managing Scarcity Rudolf Klein, Patricia Day, Sharon Redmayne, 1996      Managing Scarcity Rudolf Klein, 1996 The rationing of health care has become one of the most emotive issues of the 1990s in the UK causing much public confusion political controversy This book provides a critical comprehensive introduction to this debate      Setting priorities in health: a study of English primary care trusts Suzanne Robinson and others, 2011      Managing Clinical Processes in Health Services Roslyn Sorensen, Rick Iedema, 2008 Managing Clinical Processes is the first book of its kind to address the concept of clinical process management and to integrate the clinical workplace within the corporate organisation for the Australian health services industry It provides clinicians and managers with an understanding of the demands and expectations of modern health services from a patient consumer and multidisciplinary perspective and how to manage them The text offers an evidence based approach to organising evaluating and revising the processes that constitute a health service based on systematising care processes for specific clinical case types Managing Clinical Processes in Health Services will be invaluable to those integrating and improving systems of clinical process management across the organisation Provided by publisher      Commissioning for Health and Well-Being Jon Glasby, 2012-01-18 Commissioning is now a key task for health and social care and yet policy aspirations often outstrip the infrastructure needed to support commissioners as they take difficult decisions about future services and to make commissioning a career of choice for future leaders While commissioning was important under New Labour it seems set to be even more fundamental now as commissioners think about future services in an era of austerity Against this background this is the first comprehensive text on a key area of management practice exploring what commissioning is where it has come from and where it might be taking us With a wide range of leading contributors from fields including health care social care local government the book takes students practitioners and managers through key stages of the commissioning cycle as well as addressing cross cutting themes such as the economics of commissioning user involvement and commissioning in an era of personalisation It is essential reading for everyone involved in the planning and delivery of health and social care for social policy students health and social care practitioners managers and policy makers alike      Access to Health Care Martin Gulliford, Myfanwy Morgan, 2013-05-13 To what extent can we have truly universal comprehensive and timely health services equally available to all Access to Health Care considers the meaning of access in health care and examines the theoretical issues that underpin these questions Contributors draw on a range of disciplinary perspectives to investigate key aspects of access including geographical accessibility of services socio economic equity of access patients help seeking behaviour organisational problems and access methods for evaluating access Access is considered in both a UK and international context The book includes chapters on contrasting health policies in the United States and European Union Access to Health Care provides both health care researchers as well as health professionals managers and policy analysts with a clear and wide ranging overview of topical and controversial questions in health policy and health services organization and delivery

Powell, 1997 Powell draws on original research to examine health care before the NHS and health care in other countries to locate the service in its wider context He analyses its successes and failures and attempts to predict its future direction International Journal of Environmental Technology and Management , 2003 The Global Challenge of Health Care Rationing Angela Coulter, Christopher Ham, 2000 Adds to the debate on priority setting by looking at experience from other countries Health Affairs , 2002 The Ethics of Health Care Rationing John Butler, 1999 This volume explains why and in what ways health care is being rationed in the late 1990s health service It examines the ethical questions which arise from this rationing and includes personal case studies from surgeons to geriatric advisors BMJ ,2008 Public administration ,2000 Who Cares? Oliver Morgan,1998 We are born into it it is there throughout our lives and we die in its care As the National Health Service passes its fiftieth birthday there is a growing fear that the foundations on which it was established are crumbling This book looks behind the headlines and explains in a simple straightforward way what has happened to our NHS and what future waits in store The most recent NHS reforms the internal market will be replaced But by what Can the system be made more accountable How can the balance of knowledge be shifted towards the patient Is the NHS underfunded Should some elements of NHS activity be charged to patients Will the British public agree on what is an illness Can this lead to rational rationing Can the relationship between public and private sectors be made to work The time for a fundamental debate on the future of the health system has come It is a debate of great importance and one we must face now before it is too late In this extensively researched work author and journalist Oliver Morgan traces the development of the NHS assesses its current state of health and opens the debate on its future The Health Service Journal ,2006
