Marginalized Voices of Postcolonial Literature traces multifarious facets of marginalized literature across the world giving a brilliant overview of the historical roots of multiculturalist and marginalized sections. The fourteen chapters relate key literary and cultural texts and cover a broad spectrum of historical, linguistic and theoretical issues. There are three sections in the book: section I has four chapters dealing specifically with theoretical constructions and representations; Section II consists of four chapters that offer a varied spectrum of discourses on world literature intersecting with the frameworks of literary theories; Section III comprises six chapters that explore the mind of Dalits, subalterns, colonial women and gender issues of a variety of Indian English Writers and draw varied perspectives of it.

Perspectives on Indian English Literature Vinod Kumar Maheshwari, 2002. Perspectives on Indian English Literature are too vast and varied to be completely evaluated between the covers of a single book. The present volume is a modest contribution to explore this area through a vast cross-section of scholars and academicians from different universities of the country. Apart from its critical and academic importance, the present volume would also help the students, teachers, researchers and scholars to know India through the broadened perspectives proffered through English language.

South Asian Novelists in English Jaina C. Sanga, 2003-03-30. With the publication of Salman Rushdie's Booker Prize winning novel Midnight's Children in 1981 followed by the unprecedented popularity of his subsequent works, the cinematic adaptation of Michael Ondaatje's The English Patient many other best sellers written by South Asian novelists writing in English have gained a tremendous following. This reference is a guide to their lives and writings. The volume focuses on novelists born in South Asia who have written and continue to write about issues concerning that region. Some of the novelists have published widely while others are only beginning their literary careers. The volume includes alphabetically arranged entries on more than 50 South Asian novelists. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a biography, a discussion of major works and themes, a summary of the novelist's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies. Since many of the contributors are personally acquainted with the novelists they are able to offer significant insights. The volume closes with a selected bibliography of studies of the South Asian novel in English along with a list of anthologies and periodicals.

Indian Fiction in English P. Mallikarjuna Rao, Mittapalli Rajeshwar, 1999. Indian Fiction in English now enjoys a major presence across the world. From its humble beginnings in the thirties it has come a long way to emerge as a serious contender to some of the most coveted literary prizes in the world. In terms of popularity and market presence it has experienced phenomenal success in the recent years. While it behoves well to celebrate its success and revel in its glory, we should also stop to enquire into its strengths and weaknesses, its achievements and failures and its present status and future prospects. Standing as we do on the threshold of the twenty-first century, the underlying purpose of Indian Fiction in English therefore is to attempt a fairly comprehensive turn-of-the-century stocktaking of Indian fiction in English. The anthology puts together incisive and highly rated articles on almost all the important Indian novelists in English, starting
