Cancer Nursing Jessica Corner,Christopher D. Bailey,2009-03-16 The needs of cancer patients and their families are complex Yet still more complex are the powerful social and cultural forces that shape the delivery of cancer care and the way in which it experienced Cancer Nursing Care in Context addresses this by adopting a unique approach that situates cancer care in the context of society's attitudes to the disease and the broader everyday needs of both patients and their carers. By combining evidenced based information a critical view of care and treatment and first hand accounts of having cancer and caring for people with cancer the book provides a new perspective how best to deliver the care that patients truly require. This second edition includes new chapters on prevention diagnosis symptoms self help and self management and living with cancer long term. It also addresses significant changes in cancer care including expansion of nursing roles the establishment of cancer networks and cancer collaborative projects. Considers NICE guidance on Supportive and Palliative care. Incorporates material on prevention and early detection. Includes evidence tables based on relevant literature. Cancer Nursing Care in Context is an invaluable resource for all those involved in the provision of cancer care and support to patients and their families.

Nursing Patients with Cancer Nora Kearney,Alison Richardson,2006-01-01 Nursing Patients with Cancer Principles and Practice is a major new text a comprehensive evidence based source book that provides a detailed foundation for adult cancer nursing. It explains the essential social and scientific basis of modern cancer management and equips nurses with the key skills and knowledge required to work in cancer care teams. The content is based upon assessment and intervention of patient and family needs and aims to prepare nurses to work with cancer patients and their families across a range of settings back cover

Oncology Nursing Christine Miaskowski,Patricia Buchsel,1999 This comprehensive textbook for oncology nurses is organized into two parts. Part I contains information on the major principles of cancer treatment i.e. epidemiology, pathophysiology, oncologic emergencies, etc. In Part II issues related to specific cancers i.e. breast, rectal, pancreatic, etc. are discussed. This book is intended as a reference for oncology nurses. The field of oncology nursing has changed greatly in the last five years. Oncology nurses need a current comprehensive text so that they can understand a patient's trajectory, provide appropriate interventions and teach patients and their family members how to manage symptoms and cope with their diseases. I agree with the authors that the scope and practice of oncology nursing has been expanding beyond the hospital setting. Oncology nurses are found in the outpatient as well as the home care settings. A comprehensive reference is needed in order to be able to keep abreast of this demanding and changing specialty. The book met the authors objectives. Text chapters provide the reader with a thorough discussion of the issues. The special features found in the text on standards of patient care, patient teaching guides and quality improvement tools are very helpful to the reader. According to the author the book is written for oncology nurses and oncology nursing students. I agree with the authors targeted audiences. This book is specifically written for nurses in order to help them gain an understanding of the disease process, medical management, nursing implications and teaching needs of patients. Both of the authors of this text are credible authorities on the subject matter presented. Miaskowki has had a wide variety of oncology nursing experience and is currently professor and chair of the Department of Physiologic Nursing at UCSF. Buchsel is recognized as an expert in the nursing care of bone marrow and stem cell transplantation. She is currently a clinical instructor at the University of Washington School of Nursing Education and is an oncology nurse consultant. The principles of cancer and current treatment modalities are covered in this book. Trends in surgical, radiation, chemotherapy and biotherapy are written about in detail. In addition, nurses are able to review the clinical implications and nursing management of patients undergoing disease specific treatment. The information on patient home care needs and patient teaching guides is very helpful. All aspects of oncology nursing care are covered in this text including psychosocial, cultural and terminal care issues. Tables and diagrams are appropriate and useful. One shortcoming of the text of note is that all diagrams appear in black and white. This is a very useful and comprehensive reference for oncology nurses. Providing the reader with nursing standards of care and patient teaching information are additional valuable features of this book. This book is well written and compares favorably with other books in the field such as Groenwald's Cancer Nursing Principles and Practice 4th Edition Jones and Bartlett 1997 83 100 Stacen Keating RN BSN Mount Sinai Hospital and Medical Center Copyright 2006 Doody Reviews

Nursing Care Standards for Cancer Patients Hanaa Sabra, Harrisa El Shemy, Hala Youssef, 2014-03

Quality of care that is expected from a health care facility is made explicit by written standards that direct the way the service is to be provided and the results should be achieved from that service. Nursing care Standards must be available to all nursing personnel to serve as guide for professional work. Standard is a descriptive professional statement of desired or agreed level of performance care against which the level of performance care can be judged. It must be observable, achievable and measurable. The patient's ability to cope with chemotherapy will be influenced by knowledge of the treatment and realistic expectations of side effects. Therefore, Nurses play a vital role regarding cancer patients in order to help them to cope and adapt to their illness. This role includes monitoring acute reaction and follow up care of these patients, providing education, counseling and support as the patients facing change in their life. In an attempt to help nurses to develop their knowledge, improving their practice with new technology and to provide good quality nursing care for cancer patients this requires development and applying nursing care standards in oncology units.
