

Determining strategies for managing gender equality

Effective leadership requires a strategic approach to managing gender equality. A strategic approach involves identifying the key areas of focus and developing a plan to address them. This approach ensures that gender equality is integrated into the organization's overall strategy and that resources are allocated effectively.

Managing Gender Jim McKay, 1997-01-01 Evaluates the implementation of affirmative action programs for women in Australian Canadian and New Zealand sporting organizations Managing Gender Diversity in Asia Mustafa F. Ezbilgin, Jawad Syed, 2010-01-01 Managing Gender Diversity in Asia is as timely as it is important Mustafa F. Ezbilgin and Jawad Syed raise the set of issues that all of us managers and scholars need to ponder and address if we are to have a 21st century defined by equity Nancy J. Adler McGill University Canada This timely Companion examines the unique codes and processes of managing gender diversity equality and inclusion in Asia Managing Gender Diversity in Asia covers the whole geography of Asia through chapters authored by eminent scholars in the field and thus provides an authoritative tool for a critical and evidence based understanding of gender diversity management in Asia The distinctive nature of Asian institutional structures approaches and processes are examined in order to account for variations in representation and inclusion at work for women and men This comprehensive Companion will make ideal reading for researchers postgraduate students and practitioners who wish to understand the methodological and thematic idiosyncrasies of researching gender diversity management in organisational settings Gender Participation in Forest Resource Management Thị Hồng Vân Nguyễn, 2018 This book aims to assess how the Co Tu peoples an ethnic minority living in the central region of Vietnam benefit from participation in a benefit sharing mechanism which allows legal collection of non timber forest products inside special use forests The research also examines social and cultural influences which impact on cultural harvesting and gender relations in the commune and households particularly in regards to local rights and roles in harvesting the products The results indicate that benefits from collecting non timber forest products after introduction of the benefit sharing mechanism were insignificant when compared with before its introduction Furthermore development activities under the benefit sharing mechanism did not have any impact on local people in terms of diversification of livelihood strategies nor did it increase household income Women in particular faced limitations in participating in the benefit sharing mechanism's program as a result of strong customary laws within their ethnic group However the benefit sharing mechanism did increase women's knowledge on equal rights and roles in access to and control over forest resources and their sense of responsibility in forest management and conservation Back cover Managing Gender Expectations Carol Vallone Mitchell, 2000 The Role of Oversight Institutions in Handling Gender Sensitive Issues O. B. C. Nwolise, 2004 Managing Gender Inequity in Academia Gina Scutelnicu Todoran, 2024-04-16 Academia is not immune to gender bias and in many public affairs programs inequities persist in faculty academic rank salary career length job security leadership roles professional recognition resource allocation and role stereotypes Managing Gender Inequity in Academia is the first book to provide an evidence based guide for university administrators and faculty interested in building all important gender equity in public affairs and related programs Drawing on both secondary and primary data the book offers a comprehensive perspective on public affairs faculty career paths the obstacles to advancement in the academy and how the COVID 19 pandemic further contributed to existing inequities Each chapter of the book presents evidence based research derived from interviews surveys existing statistics and documents offering guidance to public affairs programs departments and schools on ways to strengthen the recruitment retention and promotion of women in the academy Ultimately author Gina Scutelnicu Todoran demonstrates the ways in which gender equity can strengthen institutions of higher learning Managing Gender Inequity in Academia is a guide for building gender equity in public affairs programs for faculty higher education administrators and graduate students in public affairs and related disciplines Chapter 3 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Nontimber Forest Products in the United States Eric T. Jones,Rebecca Jean McLain,James F. Weigand,2002 A quiet revolution is taking place in America s forests Once seen primarily as stands of timber our woodlands are now prized as a rich source of a wide range of commodities from wild mushrooms and maple sugar to hundreds of medicinal plants whose uses have only begun to be fully realized Now as timber harvesting becomes more mechanized and requires less labor the image of the lumberjack is being replaced by that of the forager This book provides the first comprehensive examination of nontimber forest products NTFPs in the United States illustrating their diverse importance describing the people who harvest them and outlining the steps that are being taken to ensure access to them As the first extensive national overview of NTFP policy and management specific to the United States it brings together research from numerous disciplines and analytical perspectives such as economics mycology history ecology law entomology forestry geography and anthropology in order to provide a cohesive picture of the current and potential role of NTFPs The contributors review the state of scientific knowledge of NTFPs by offering a survey of commercial and noncommercial products an overview of uses and users and discussions of sustainable management issues associated with ecology cultural traditions forest policy and commerce They examine some of the major social economic and biological benefits of NTFPs while also addressing the potential negative consequences of NTFP harvesting on forest ecosystems and on NTFP species populations Within this wealth of information are rich accounts of NTFP use drawn from all parts of the American landscape from the Pacific Northwest to the Caribbean From honey production to a review of nontimber forest economies still active in the United States such as the Ojibway

harvest of plants recounted here the book takes in the whole breadth of recent NTFP issues including ecological concerns associated with the expansion of NTFP markets and NTFP tenure issues on federally managed lands No other volume offers such a comprehensive overview of NTFPs in North America By examining all aspects of these products it contributes to the development of more sophisticated policy and management frameworks for not only ensuring their ongoing use but also protecting the future of our forests
