Sales, 2003 Imagery and Ideology William J. Berg, 2007 Literature is ostensibly a sequential and thus temporal medium and painting a static and spatial one yet writers like George Sand and Emile Zola have attempted repeatedly to represent visual and spatial phenomena in literary texts just as painters like Eugene Delacroix and Claude Monet have sought consistently to capture effects of time and movement on canvas The incorporation of elements from one artistic medium into another creates a dynamic interplay of image and ideology both between art forms and within individual texts and paintings which constitutes the crux of this book Each chapter involves the detailed analysis of a text and a painting related through topic theme and technique By juxtaposing the works of ten major writers and ten painters of comparable stature the book explores the various modalities and layers of meaning in nineteenth century French art both verbal and visual and proposes ways of reading the ambivalent artifacts of modernity Illustrated

Modernism Stephen Bann, 2013-10-18 Stephen Bann examines the arguments for the centrality of French modernist painting He begins by focusing particularly on the notion of the modernist break as it has been interpreted with regard to painters like Manet and Ingres He argues that curiosity with its origins in the seventeenth century world view can be a valid concept for understanding some aspects of contemporary art that contest the modern suggesting ways of sidetracking the modern by adopting a lengthier historical view Manet en el Prado Édouard Manet, Juliet Wilson-Bareau, Museo del Prado, 2003 Amplia retrospectiva dedicada a este pintor francés en el marco del Museo del Prado muy querido por el artista que visitó en su corta lebre viaje a Madrid en 1865 Admirador de los pintores españoles del Siglo de Oro los tomó como ejemplo de ruptura de fórmulas establecidas para entrar en la modernidad

Everybody's Magazine, 1909 Is Paris Still the Capital of the Nineteenth Century? Hollis Clayson, 2017-07-05 Is Paris Still the Capital of the Nineteenth Century The question that guides this volume stems from Walter Benjamin's studies of nineteenth century Parisian culture as the apex of capitalist aesthetics Thirteen scholars test Benjamin's ideas about the centrality of Paris formulated in the 1930s from a variety of methodological perspectives Many investigate the underpinnings of the French capital's reputation and mythic force which was based largely upon the city's capacity to put itself on display Some of the authors reassess the famed centrality of Paris from the vantage point of our globalized twenty first century by acknowledging its entanglements with South Africa Turkey Japan and the United States The volume equally studies a broader range of media than Benjamin did himself from modernist painting and printmaking photography and illustration to urban planning The essays conclude that Paris did in many ways function as the epicenter of modernity's international reach especially in the years from 1850 to 1900 but did so only as a consequence of the idiosyncratic force of its mythic image Above all the essays affirm that the study of late nineteenth century Paris still requires nimble and innovative approaches commensurate with its legend and global aura

The Art of Impressionism Anthea Callen, 2000-01-01 Drawing on scientific studies of pigments and materials artists' treatises colourmen's archives and contemporary and modern accounts Anthea Callen demonstrates how raw materials and paintings are profoundly interdependent She analyses the material constituents of oil painting and the complex processes of making entailed in all aspects of artistic production discussing in particular oil painting methods for landscapists and the impact of plein air light on figure painting studio practice and display Insisting that the meanings of paintings are constituted by and within the cultural matrices that produced them Callen argues that the real modernity of the Impressionist enterprise lies in the painters' material practices
