Manikmanik Di Indonesia Beads In Indonesia:

Beads in Indonesia Sumarah Adhyatman, Redjeki Arifin, 1993 The Archaeology of Sulawesi Sue O'Connor, David Bulbeck, Juliet Meyer, 2018-11-14 The central Indonesian island of Sulawesi has recently been hitting headlines with respect to its archaeology. It contains some of the oldest directly dated rock art in the world and some of the oldest evidence for a hominin presence beyond the southeastern limits of the Ice Age Asian continent. In this volume, scholars from Indonesia and Australia come together to present their research findings and views on a broad range of topics. From early periods, these include observations on Ice Age climate, life in caves and open sites, rock art, and the animals that humans exploited and lived alongside. The archaeology presented from later periods covers the rise of the Bugis kingdom, Chinese trade ceramics, and a range of site-based and regional topics from the Neolithic through to the arrival of Islam. This carefully edited volume is the first to be devoted entirely to the archaeology of the island of Sulawesi, and it lays down a baseline for significant future research. Peter Bellwood, Emeritus Professor, The Australian National University History of Padang Lawas 1 Cahier d'Archipel 42, 2014-04-30 For the last century and a half, the name of Padang Lawas in the present province of North Sumatra, Indonesia, has been associated with a number of isolated Hindu-Buddhist remains located in the middle of the island. These remains are all the more remarkable because they form the largest Indianized archaeological complex yet to be seen in the northern half of Sumatra. This book is the latest contribution to the accumulation of knowledge on the ancient history of Padang Lawas. The fifteen studies brought together here present the main results of the archaeological research programme conducted from 2006 until 2010 by the Ecole française d'Extrême Orient in cooperation with the Indonesian National Centre for Archaeological Research. This programme was focused on one of the sites known in this region, namely Si Pamutung, presently located near the confluence of the Bammun and Batang Pane Rivers. These contributions are devoted firstly to the directly visible features of Si Pamutung, namely its environmental setting and its Hindu-Buddhist remains made of brick and stone. Kota Cina: A Settlement in the Strait of Malacca Kota Cina: A Settlement in the Strait of Malacca, 2024-08-13 From the time of its rediscovery in the early 1970s, the site of Kota Cina on the shore of the Malacca Strait in the present province of North Sumatra, Indonesia, appeared as one of the major old settlement sites in the region. This book represents the latest contribution to the accumulation of knowledge on the history of the site between the late eleventh and early fourteenth centuries CE. A first set of eighteen studies offers the main results of the archaeological research programme conducted from 2011 until 2018 by the Ecole française d'Extrême Orient in cooperation with the Pusat Penelitian Arkeologi Nasional Indonesia. It includes a contribution on structures, features, and stratigraphies; studies devoted to the 227,000 finds uncovered during these excavations: earthenware, Chinese ceramics, glassware, metal, Chinese coins, lithic material, faunal remains, wood, worked organic finds, fruits, and seeds, as well as a geomorphological and paleoenvironmental contribution. A second set of studies presents the results of other surveys and excavations which shed additional light on the programme that constitutes the core of this book two contributions devoted to Kota Cina itself one devoted to the neighbouring site of Bulu Cina and one devoted to recent excavations in the South Sumatra Province A third set includes two studies which constitute reappraisals of two corpora Hindu Buddhist statuary from Kota Cina contemporary Chinese written sources allowing to apprehend the history of relations between Kota Cina in particular and the Straits of Malacca more generally with South Asia on the one hand and China on the other hand in the light of the most recent knowledge The concluding chapter draws on all these contributions in an attempt to offer a synthesis of certain aspects related to the occupation of the Kota Cina site morphology and spatial evolution of the settlement dwelling features space occupation as well as domestic life and religious practices Within this framework an essay on the economic and political history of Kota Cina is proposed from the emergence of the site until its abandonment including its involvement in overseas trade routes and hypotheses on its political status Archaeology
