Organising Feminisms The Micropolitics Of The Academy:

Organising Feminisms L. Morley, 1999-06-22 This study of feminism equity and change in the academy is based on interviews with 40 feminist academics and students in Britain Sweden and Greece The research attempts to decode and disentangle gendered message systems and the matrix of power relations in the academy It consists of feminist readings of the micro processes of everyday practices Change is interrogated in relation to feminist pedagogy equity organizational culture policies and discourses of New Right reform mass expansion and new managerialism Power, Knowledge and the Academy V. Gillies, H. Lucey, 2007-08-24 This book takes a close up and critical look at both the elusive and blatant workings and consequences of power in a range of everyday sites in universities Chapters focus on specific locations in which power shapes personal and institutional knowledge including student supervisor relationships research teams networking and literature reviews Critical Approaches to Women and Gender in Higher Education Pamela L. Eddy, Kelly Ward, Tehmina Khwaja, 2017-01-12 This volume provides a critical examination of the status of women and gender in higher education today Despite the increasing numbers of women in higher education gendered structures continue to hinder women's advancement in academia This book goes beyond the numbers to examine the issues facing those members of academia with non dominant gender identities The authors analyze higher education structures from a range of perspectives and offer recommendations at individual and institutional levels to encourage activism and advance equality in academia

Gender Studies and the New Academic Governance Heike Kahlert, 2017-12-04 What is happening to gender studies and gender research as emerging but contested fields of scientific knowledge in the conditions of the new academic governance And which role do gender studies and gender research play in the current transformations in academia All articles in this book make clear that the impacts of the new academic governance have global glocal and local dimensions which have to be taken into account in analysing the state of gender studies and gender research at the end of the 2010s From diverse geopolitical and sociocultural views the authors simultaneously draw a multifaceted picture of the current situation criticise the widespread tendencies of the marketisation of scientific knowledge suggest strategies for resistance against the neo liberalisation of higher education and research and identify starting points for further and optionally comparative studies on these issues These contributions emphasise not only the need for more theoretical reflection and empirical research and for critical exchanges on the current transformations but also the need for political action to challenge resist and change them The Editor Dr Heike Kahlert is Professor and Chair of Sociology Social Inequality and Gender at the Ruhr University Bochum RUB Germany Gendered Academic Citizenship Sevil Sümer, 2020-09-29 This book proposes the framework of gendered academic citizenship to capture the multidimensional and complex dynamics of power relations and everyday practices in the contemporary context of academic capitalism The book proposes an innovative definition of academic citizenship as involving three key components membership recognition and belonging Based on new empirical data it identifies four ideal types of academic citizenship full limited transitional citizenship and non citizenship The different chapters of the book provide comprehensive reviews of the relevant research literature and offer original insights into the patterns of gender inequalities and practices of gendered academic citizenship across and within different national contexts The book concludes by setting a comprehensive research agenda for the future This book will be of interest to academic researchers and students at all levels in the disciplines of sociology gender studies higher education political science and cultural anthropology

Making Inclusion Work Saija Katila, Susan Merikinen, Janne Tienari, 2010-01-01 Full of insights for any organizational scholar still hoping to make a difference for a better world this greatly illuminating book examines what it takes to intervene critically but positively in the mainstream of a globalized academic life and be able to survive such interventions The contributors offer tried and tested approaches neither aggressive nor confrontational allowing them to bring inclusion and multiplicity to their teaching and their research while carving spaces for action and resistance to hegemonic academic practices An innovative must read and much needed text Marta B Cal s University of Massachusetts US This important book should be required reading for all management educators Starting from an incisive and timely critique of the increasingly standardized global academic system the editors set out to offer an inclusive vision of what education can be A rich array of contributors from diverse cultures and perspectives offer experiences and ideas about the practice of inclusive education and perhaps more importantly offer some hope that the logic of standardization is not immutable Christopher Grey University of Warwick UK This innovative book explores how inclusion can be enhanced in academia by considering the strategic work of expert academics from around the world It offers a new look at academic work through the accounts of passionate practitioners who have each in their own ways made inclusion work Making Inclusion Work exemplifies how academics can meaningfully engage in inclusive practices in their everyday work Scholars around the world share their experiences of intervening in curriculum development teaching and research and reflect on practices that have worked in local contexts The authors discuss the process for reaching greater inclusion which begins with an honest appraisal of current local practice Reflective developers in academic institutions and educational administration will appreciate the unique insights provided by this book Students interested in diversity and inclusion academic practices and autobiographical action oriented research will also find the contributions invaluable

Have Women Made a Difference? Judith Harford, Claire Rush, 2010 Tracing the evolution of women s role in university education from the 19th century to the present day this book captures the complexity of women s position within the academy and poses the critical question Have women made a difference

Women Studies Abstracts ,2001 The Enterprising University Gareth L. Williams,2003 What has been the impact in universities and colleges of the new cultures of enterprise and entrepreneurialism What are the implications for equity and access for quality and diversity for research and teaching and for students and staff This title explores answers to these questions and more Multiple Marginalities Justyna Sempruch,Katharina Willems,Laura Shook,2006 Feminist Periodicals ,2000 Women in Leadership and Management Duncan McTavish,Karen Miller,2006 This book explores the gendered nature of leadership and management The contributors analyse issues such as management development and therapeutic cultures expectations placed on women in the workplace managing maternity and the gendered nature of workplace mistakes The position of women in various sectors and areas of the politico economic landscape is also considered topics discussed include women in the boardroom women in the small to medium size enterprise sector support for female entrepreneurs gender in the public sector gender and the management of the European Commission The book concludes by stating the business case for greater female representation in leadership and management outlining some of the nuances in changing gender identities and positioning the content within current macro political developments As such it will strongly appeal to academics and researchers in gender studies policy studies social science business and management Practitioners and consultants in the equal opportunities field will also find much to interest them in this book Gendering the Sociology Profession Sanja Magdalenić,2004 This Ph D dissertation is framed as a historical comparative analysis of the sociology profession The focus will be put on the emergence and the development of the profession and its organizational arenas The analysis will present data from three sociology fields Sweden Britain and the US as these fields relate to the three models of professionalization that have been outlined by the sociology of the professions Performing a comparative analysis of an individual profession will help reveal similarities and differences between the cases being considered The aim of the dissertation is twofold First it seeks to add to theorizing about the relationship between gender and professions by exploring the ways in which the emergence organization and knowledge production of an academic profession has interrelated with gender in the historical development of sociology as a profession Contents include Introduction Sociology of the professions through gender lens the Professional project Gendering professional associations Patterns of closure in academic departments Gender and the sociological canon Homo sociologicus subjective reminiscences Conclusions Enabling Praxis Stephen Kemmis, Tracey J. Smith, 2008 In a range of professions professional practice today is under threat It is endangered for example by pressures of bureaucratic control commodification marketization and the standardisation of practice in some professions In these times there is a need for deeper understandings of professional practice and how it develops through professional careers Enabling Praxis Challenges for education explores these questions in the context of initial and continuing professional education of teachers It presents a theory of the development of praxis morally committed action oriented by tradition to show the ways praxis is enabled and constrained by the cultural discursive material and social political conditions under which professional practice occurs It introduces the notion of practice architectures to show how particular conditions for practice shape the possibilities of praxis The way these processes work is illustrated by detailed exploration of a number of cases of praxis development in a variety of educational settings at a variety of levels in teacher education for schools and for vocational education and training in the continuing professional education of teachers in educational administration and in informal community based education for sustainability initiatives The book provides conceptual resources that permit deeper analysis of the character conduct and consequences of professional practice It concludes with challenges for education and for initial and continuing teacher education suggesting that the contemporary threats to education as a professional practice call for revitalisation of the profession professional bodies and the intellectual traditions that orient and guide educational practice Annual Meeting Program - American Educational Research Association American Educational Research Association, 1997 Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association, 1999 Women and Minorities in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics Ronald J. Burke, Mary C. Mattis, 2007 Advances in science technology engineering and mathematics STEM are key factors in contributing to future economic performance higher living standards and improved quality of life As dominant white males near retirement and immigration slows developed countries face a serious skill shortage in critical STEM disciplines This fascinating book examines why the numbers of women and minorities in STEM are low outlines the potential consequences of this and prescribes much needed solutions to the problem The contributors illustrate how women and minorities are subtly and actively discouraged from entering STEM educational programs and occupations and how once there face conditions that limit their ability to fully participate should they choose to Solutions to this complex problem of wasted human talent are prescribed at several levels beginning with the family and rising up through the educational system to organizational employers and through government level initiatives This highly original book will prove a stimulating read for both academics and practitioners interested in gender issues workforce diversity management and of course in STEM professions
