New Writing From Mexico:

New Writing from Mexico Reginald Gibbons,1992 Contemporary Mexican Women Writers Gabriella de Beer,2010-06-28 Mexican women writers moved to the forefront of their country's literature in the twentieth century. Among those who began publishing in the 1970s and 1980s are María Luisa Puga, Silvia Molina, Brianda Domecq, Carmen Boullosa and Angeles Mastretta. Sharing a range of affinities while maintaining distinctive voices and outlooks, these are the women whom Gabriella de Beer has chosen to profile in Contemporary Mexican Women Writers. De Beer takes a three part approach to each writer. She opens with an essay that explores the writer's apprenticeship and discusses her major works. Next, she interviews each writer to learn about her background, writing and view of herself and others. Finally, de Beer offers selections from the writer's work that have not been previously published in English translation. Each section concludes with a complete bibliographic listing of the writer's works and their English translations. These essays, interviews and selections vividly recreate the experience of being with the writer and sharing her work, hearing her tell about and evaluate herself and reading the words she has written. The book will be rewarding reading for everyone who enjoys fine writing.

This special one country issue makes a departure and concentrates on the younger writers in Mexico.

Entries on the 50 leading writers in Latin America from colonial times to the present and detailed articles on some 50 important works in this literature those who read and studied in the English speaking world.

The Picaresque and the Writing Life in Mexico Jorge Téllez,2021-05-15 This book studies picaresque narratives from 1690 to 2013, examining how this literary form serves as a reflection on the material conditions necessary for writing literature in Mexico. In The Picaresque and the Writing Life in Mexico, Jorge Téllez argues that Mexican writers have drawn on the picaresque as a device for pondering what they regard as the perils of intellectual and creative labor. Surveying ten narratives from 1690 to 2013, Téllez shows how, by and large, all of them are iterations of the same basic structure: pícaro meets writer, pícaro tells life story, writer eagerly writes it down. This written mediation sometimes fictional but other times completely factual is presented as part of a transaction in which it is rarely clear who is exploiting whom. Highlighting this ambiguity, Téllez's study brings into focus the role that the picaresque has played in the presentation of writers as disenfranchised and vulnerable subjects. But as Téllez demonstrates, these narratives embody a discourse of precarity that goes beyond pícaros and applies to all subjects who engage in the production and circulation of literature. In this way, Téllez shows that the literary form of the picaresque is, above all, a reflection on the value of literature as well as on the place and role of writing in Mexican society. More broadly, The Picaresque and the Writing Life in Mexico is a unique work that suggests new paths for studying the reiteration of literary forms across centuries Looking at the picaresque in particular T llez offers a new interpretation of this genre within its national context and suggests ways in which this genre remains relevant for reflecting on literature in contemporary society It will be of interest to students and scholars of Latin American studies Mexican cultures and literatures and comparative literature   Encyclopedia of Contemporary Writers and Their Works Geoff Hamilton,Brian Jones,2010 Provides a comprehensive overview of the best writers and works of the current English speaking literary world   Actas ,1905   Recent Books in Mexico ,1954   The Wood-carver's Art in Ancient Mexico Marshall Howard Saville,1925   Revista Mexicana George F.
