Stephen Brooke

Newham Docklands:

London, 1984 Stephen Brook,2024-01-22 In London in 1984 two very different cities came into conflict one rooted in radical politics and the other shaped by Margaret Thatcher and the Conservative government This was a city poised between two eras and identities remoulded in conflicting ways by social democracy and neoliberalism Using a wide array of sources many of which have never been used before London 1984 explores the radical history of the capital in this tumultuous era from a major anti apartheid march in central London to an alternative childcare centre in Dalston from a protest staged on the Thames against Docklands development to tensions on housing estates in the East End and Tottenham around racial violence and policing from a raid on a gay bookshop in Bloomsbury to the Greater London Council s attempt to build a challenge to Thatcherism from County Hall Lambeth and from controversial and well known historical actors such as Ken Livingstone and Margaret Thatcher to the compelling stories of numerous less famous Londoners who also sought to influence the shape and nature of their city This is a story of struggles within the corridors of power but it is also one of those on the ground waged through popular culture and activism and in daily life In so doing London 1984 offers a panoramic timely and revealing portrait of the city in a pivotal decade in its modern history These years saw deep problems of racial violence policing and poverty as well as other controversies and struggles over feminism gay and lesbian rights anti racism jobs and economic strategy neoliberalism and the nature of the state and global issues such as Apartheid nuclear weapons and Northern Ireland Across these and the stories of those who lived shaped and fought them we see the roots of London and Britian today

Place and the Politics of Identity Michael Keith,Steve Pile,2004-11-23 In the last two decades new political subjects have been created through the actions of the new social movements often by asserting the unfixed and overdetermined character of identity Further in attempting to avoid essentialism people have frequently looked to their territorial roots to establish their constituency A cultural politics of resistance as exemplified by Black politics feminism and gay liberation has developed struggles to turn sites of oppression and discrimination into spaces of resistance This book collects together perspectives which challenge received notions of geography which are in danger of becoming anachronisms without a language to articulate the new space of resistance the new politics of identity

Remaking Planning Tim Brindley,Yvonne Rydin,Gerry Stoker,2005-08-04 Remaking Planning challenges the common misconception that planning under the Conservative government has been dismantled and abandoned to market forces This new edition of a very well received text brings the original study up to date with an analysis of how planning in the 1990s has responded to continuing economic restructuring political fragmentation and social change and developed a new awareness of uncertainty and risk The book illustrates how planning remains as a never ending attempt to reconcile the demands of economic efficiency with those of democratic legitimacy

A History of the County of Essex B. A. Board,1987 The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume II Nikolina Bobic,Farzaneh Haghghi,2024-11-22 Architecture and the

Mapping the Futures John Bird, Barry Curtis, Tim Putnam, Lisa Tickner, 2012-09-10 There are now new experiences of space and time new tensions between globalism and regionalism socialism and consumerism reality and spectacle new instabilities of value meaning and identity a dialectic between past and future How are we to understand these Mapping the Futures is the first of a series which brings together cultural theorists from different disciplines to assess the implications of economic political and social change for intellectual inquiry and cultural practice
