O Rathaille:

O Rathaille Aodhagán Ó Rathaille, Michael Hartnett, 1998 Michael Hartnett's masterly translations of Aodhagan O Rathaille c 1670 1729 grant us entry into issues of religious political and economic conflict They marry the energy of the original meters to the vitality of fervent speech A variety of Gaelic forms pulses with excitements and anxieties The laments fuse personal and cultural sorrows and proffer reports of the death of an entire civilization An Irish Literature Reader Maureen O'Rourke Murphy, James MacKillop, 2006-07-10 In a volume that has become a standard text in Irish studies and serves as a course friendly alternative to the Field Day anthology editors Maureen O Rourke Murphy and James MacKillop survey thirteen centuries of Irish literature including Old Irish epic and lyric poetry Irish folksongs and drama For each author the editors provide a biographical sketch a brief discussion of how his or her selections relate to a larger body of work and a selected bibliography In addition this new volume includes a larger sampling of women writers Dánta Aodhagáin Uí Rathaille. The poems of Egan O'Rahilly. To which are added miscellaneous pieces illustrating their subjects and language Egan O'Rahilly, 1900 Irish Literature Maureen O'Rourke Murphy, James MacKillop, 1987 Seamus Heaney and the Emblems of Hope Karen Marguerite Moloney, 2007 Explores Seamus Heaney's adaptation of the Celtic ritual known as the Feis of Tara demonstrates the sovereignty motif's continued relevance in works by Irish poets Thomas Kinsella John Montague Eavan Boland and Nuala Ni Dhomhnaill and refutes criticism that charges sexism and overemphasizes sacrifice in Heaney's poetry Provided by publisher The Prose Literature of the Gaelic Revival, 1881-1921 Philip O'Leary, 2005-07-20 The Gaelic Revival has long fascinated scholars of political history nationalism literature and theater history yet studies of the period have neglected a significant dimension of Ireland's evolution into nationhood the cultural crusades mounted by those who believed in the centrality of the Irish language to the emergent Irish state This book attempts to remedy that deficiency and to present the lively debates within the language movement in their full complexity citing documents such as editorials columns speeches letters and literary works that were influential at the time but all too often were published only in Irish or were difficult to access Cautiously employing the terms nativist and progressive for the turnings inward and toward the European continent manifested in different authors this study examines the strengths and weaknesses of contrasting positions on the major issues confronting the language movement Moving from the early collecting or retelling of folklore through the search for heroes in early Irish history to the reworking of ancient Irish literary materials by retelling it in modern vernacular Irish O Leary addresses the many debates and questions concerning Irish writing of the period His study is a model for inquiries into the kind of linguistic literary movement that arises during intense nationalism Inventing Ireland Declan Kiberd, 1996 The result is a major literary history of modern Ireland combining detailed and daring interpretations of literary masterpieces with assessments of the wider role of language sport clothing politics and philosophy in the Irish revival Bella Caledonia Kirsten Stirling, 2008 Bella Caledonia Woman Nation Text looks at the widespread tradition of using a female figure to represent the nation focusing on twentieth century Scottish literature The woman as nation figure emerged in Scotland in the twentieth century but as a literary figure rather than an institutional icon like Britannia or France's Marianne Scottish writers make use of familiar aspects of the trope such as the protective mother nation and the woman as fertile land which are obviously problematic from a feminist perspective But darker implications buried in the long history of the figure rise to the surface in Scotland such as woman nation as victim and woman nation as deformed or monstrous As a result of Scotland's unusual status as a nation within the larger entity of Great Britain the literary figures under consideration here are never simply incarnations of a confident and complete nation nurturing her warrior sons Rather they reflect a more modern anxiety about the concept of the nation and embody a troubled and divided national identity Kirsten Stirling traces the development of the twentieth century Scotland as woman figure through readings of poetry and fiction by male and female writers including Hugh MacDiarmid Naomi Mitchison Neil Gunn Lewis Grassie Gibbon Willa Muir Alasdair Gray A L Kennedy Ellen Galford and Janice Galloway Reading the Ground Brian John, 1996 In this comprehensive study of Thomas Kinsella's poetry Brian John explores the poet's development within both the Irish and the English contexts and defines the nature of his poetic achievement He also offers a new reading of Kinsella's evolving relationship to one of his major literary forebears W B Yeats What becomes clear is the formidable accomplishment of a poet now writing at the height of his powers whose substantial body of work warrants comparison with the grand masters of twentieth century literature in English with Yeats Joyce and Beckett Bibliography of Irish Philology and of Printed Irish Literature ... National Library of Ireland, Richard Irvine Best, 1913 The Hidden Ireland Daniel Corkery, 1925 A study of some of the Munster Gaelic poets of the eighteenth century introduction Examination Papers Royal University of Ireland, 1907 Strategies of Difference in Modern Poetry Pierre Lagayette, 1998 This volume consists of a collection of essays mostly by European scholars on the ways modern poets have dealt with the crucial concept of difference in their practice of poetic composition What is examined here through the works of Stevens Roethke Yeats Pound Ammons Graham Laviera Reznikoff and Kinsella is the range of strategies used in poetry to convey a sense of disruption estrangement disturbance indeterminacy The aim is to track down the many kinds of difference that these poets' works illustrate and the challenges they pose to the critic Irish Monthly Magazine, 1928 A Short History of the Irish People from the Earliest Times to 1920 Mary Teresa Hayden, George Aloysius Moonan, 1922 The Irish Monthly, 1928 Catalogue of Irish Manuscripts in the British Museum British Museum. Department of Manuscripts, Standish Hayes O'Grady, Robin Flower, 1926 O Bruadair Dáibhí O Bruadair, 1985 In this collection Hartnett relays the complete scope of Daibhi O Bruadair's c 1623-1698 attitudes and subject matter Sometimes lyrical sometimes charged with spleen they range from the epigrammatic to the prolix and include laments both personal and communal The Sewanee Review, 1906 To Circumjack Cencrastus Hugh MacDiarmid, 1930 MacDiarmid regarded To Circumjack Cencrastus as his most ambitious effort in Scots He would turn to English for the long didactic poems that would occupy him in the future
