Observation in Modern Astronomy David Stanley Evans, 1968 Observations in Modern Astronomy David S. Evans, 1968 Ancient Astronomical Observations and the Study of the Moon's Motion (1691-1757) John M. Steele, 2012-02-17 The discovery of a gradual acceleration in the moon's mean motion by Edmond Halley in the last decade of the seventeenth century led to a revival of interest in reports of astronomical observations from antiquity These observations provided the only means to study the moon's secular acceleration as this newly discovered acceleration became known This book contains the first detailed study of the use of ancient and medieval astronomical observations in order to investigate the moon's secular acceleration from its discovery by Halley to the establishment of the magnitude of the acceleration by Richard Dunthorne Tobias Mayer and J r me Lalande in the 1740s and 1750s Making extensive use of previously unstudied manuscripts this work shows how different astronomers used the same small body of preserved ancient observations in different ways in their work on the secular acceleration In addition this work looks at the wider context of the study of the moon's secular acceleration including its use in debates of biblical chronology whether the heavens were made up of ether and the use of astronomy in determining geographical longitude It also discusses wider issues of the perceptions and knowledge of ancient and medieval astronomy in the early modern period This book will be of interest to historians of astronomy astronomers and historians of the ancient world Astronomical Observations Erik Gregersen Associate Editor, Astronomy and Space Exploration, 2009-12-20 Presents an overview of the history of astronomy discusses the tools and technology associated with it profiles noted astronomers and explores the effect of expanding astronomical knowledge on modern society Transactions of the South Eastern Union of Scientific Societies , 1912 Knowledge , 1884 Journal of the British Astronomical Association British Astronomical Association, 1919 List of members 1890 1913 bound with v 1 23 Nature , 1878 The South-eastern Naturalist , 1910 1001 Celestial Wonders as Observed with Home-built Instruments Charles Edward Barns, 1927 The Observatory , 1922 A review of astronomy varies

Irreversible Time Physics Igor Taganov, 2020-03-06 In modern science including theoretical physics as in the early classical mechanics the unnatural reversible time of Newton based on the medieval concept of geometric time by Nicholas Oresme is still used This original sin of natural sciences has unintended consequences and creates a set of paradoxes and methodological problems for science The book explores two new models of essentially irreversible time decelerating cosmological time and irreversible discrete time of a microcosm It discusses recent astronomical observations that reveal evidence of the cosmological deceleration of the pace of time in the distant cosmos in the solar system and on earth The structure of the model of irreversible discrete time of a microcosm as considered in the book allows for the existence of both time and anti time In particular the model predicts new uncertainty relations and violation of the mirror symmetry of the integral internal parity of the entire population of micro particles that correspond to current studies of elementary particle
