Opium and Other Stories Geza Csath,2022-12-13 A rediscovered classic of Hungarian literature this spellbinding collection vividly depicts the darkest impulses of the human psyche against the backdrop of Europe s moral and social decline on the eve of World War I G za Cs th pen name of Jozsef Brenner was a writer playwright musician psychiatrist and physician born in Hungary at the end of the 19th century One of Sigmund Freud s earliest followers he pushed both life and art to radical extremes in an all consuming and ultimately fatal search for the unvarnished truth about the human condition Written with unsparing clarity and reminiscent of the works of Frank Kafka and Edgar Allan Poe for their dark pessimism and gothic imagination the short stories collected here pierce the veil of the seemingly tranquil ordinary lives of their protagonist At times realistic at times dreamlike Cs th s gruesome harrowing tales reveal the violent and irrational forces lurking just beneath the surface of a society on the verge of the abyss A memorable volume Cs th s depiction of the collapse of Central Europe by way of magnification of the collapse of the individual is uncannily prophetic Joyce Carol Oates The New Republic

Room on the Sea André Aciman, 2025-06-24 Three hypnotic novellas about obsessional love missed connections and enduring regret by the bestselling author of Call Me by Your Name The short fictions in Room on the Sea deal with the heart wrenching vicissitudes of amorous ambivalence in André Aciman's inimitably nostalgic lyric style The Gentleman from Peru tells the story of the life changing encounter of a group of friends with an enigmatic solitary guest in a hotel on the Amalfi Coast Room on the Sea is a dialogue between a man and a woman who meet on jury duty and embark on a complex relationship Mariana is a modern retelling of a famous seventeenth century novel about a love affair between a nun and a swashbuckling unreliable aristocrat No one writes about the ups and downs the yeses and nos of contemporary love like Aciman As The Times London writes You don't so much read André Aciman's novels as tumble breathlessly into them

Sagittarius Natalia Ginzburg, 1988 Both stories recount the breakup of families and the souring of the dreams that gave them coherence Each is told in the quiet voice of a young woman the daughter and sister whom family life has somehow left wounded and unchosen Each is also the story of that voice's perseverance Giovanna's Navel Ernest van der Kwast, 2018 A scintillating collection from the award winning author of The Ice Cream Makers and Mama Tandoori The vivid characters in these stories share lives marked by coincidences deeply felt passions impulsive decisions and missed opportunities There's Ezio a lonely apple picker dangerously obsessed with spirited teenager Giovanna Heinrich is a quiet ticket inspector who watches his passengers live their lives as he longs for a meaningful connection of his own Klaus is a young man reflecting on his first unrequited love Eva And Paul's experiences of loss bring him to a new life As they look back and narrate their histories each reflects on the circuitous paths that life took them and on the relationships that never came to pass Melancholic yet tender these beautifully rendered atmospheric stories explore loss longing coming of age and regret and speak to the humanity in all of us

Bitter Honeymoon, and Other Stories Alberto Moravia, Bernard Wall, Baptista Gilliat Smith, Frances Frenaye, 1954 It was Just, Yesterday Mirja Unge, 2011 Turkish Delight Jan Wolkers, 2017-03-21 The story of a tempestuous love affair and the basis for Paul Verhoeven's Oscar nominated film Wolkers's controversial masterpiece comes alive in a new translation Upon its original publication in 1969 Turkish Delight was a sensation and a scandal Its graphic language and explicit sex scenes had an explosive effect but just as revolutionary was its frank colloquial style The more straightlaced critics condemned the book but readers saw a novel that reflected the way that they spoke thought and felt Turkish Delight opens with a screed a sculptor in his studio raging against the love he lost and describing in gory detail the state of his life since she left him Our narrator alternates between the story of his relationship with Olga its passion and affection but also its obsessiveness and abuse and the dark days that followed as he attempts to recapture what they had when they lived together happy as beasts The two only reunite during Olga s inexorable and tragic decline into cancer the chemo having taken her hair and rotted her teeth she will only eat the soft sweet Turkish Delight that her ex lover brings to her bedside In a new translation by Sam Garrett Herman Koch s The Dinner readers get a sense of Wolkers s revolutionary style and musical prose Turkish Delight s particular balance of naked impulse and profound longing Tin House Books gratefully acknowledges the support of the Dutch Foundation for Literature whose generous subsidy made this new translation possible

Rock Crystal Adalbert Stifter,2008-09-16 Seemingly the simplest of stories a passing anecdote of village life Rock Crystal opens up into a tale of almost unendurable suspense This jewel like novella by the writer that Thomas Mann praised as one of the most extraordinary the most enigmatic the most secretly daring and the most strangely gripping narrators in world literature is among the most unusual moving and memorable of Christmas stories Two children Conrad and his little sister Sanna set out from their village high up in the Alps to visit their grandparents in the neighboring valley It is the day before Christmas but the weather is mild though of course night falls early in December and the children are warned not to linger The grandparents welcome the children with presents and pack them off with kisses Then snow begins to fall ever more thickly and steadily Undaunted the children press on only to take a wrong turn The snow rises higher and higher time passes it is deep night when the sky clears and Conrad and Sanna discover themselves out on a glacier terrifying and beautiful the heart of the void Adalbert Stifter s rapt and enigmatic tale beautifully translated by Elizabeth Mayer and Marianne Moore explores what can be found between Christmas Eve and Christmas Day or on any night of the year

The Guesthouse at the Sign of the Teetering Globe Franziska Reventlow (Gräfin zu),2017 Fiction Short Stories Translated from the German by James J Conway In 1917 the world appears to be tilting on its axis Accustomed certainties are no more alliances are forged and just as soon abandoned In the first of seven thematically related stories we meet reform minded German eccentric Hieronymus Edelmann on a Spanish island where he leads a crocodile around on a leash and lures his compatriots to a precarious guesthouse His motives are opaque but one of his schemes is a correspondence association which appears to be an analogue chat room Elsewhere we find the polished little man who moves in truly mysterious ways and may in fact be a group delusion a s ance that turns into an illicit affair across dimensions and a band of travellers overawed by the occult power of their luxury luggage consumers possessed by their possessions The surreal scenarios of THE GUESTHOUSE AT THE SIGN OF THE TEETERING GLOBE remain vivid and unsettling a century later With dry humour and a profound sense of the uncanny bohemian countess Franziska zu Reventlow diagnoses a world in feverish transition

This is the first book by Reventlow to appear in English in an edition that also features three short stories by the author and an extensive afterword. The ten stories in the collection of which seven are loosely connected are hybrids hovering between genres and styles ultimately remaining unclassifiable with a whiff of the parabolic Kafkaesque riddle about them. Showing a wry and understated sense of humour some might perhaps best be described as surreal travel tales sharpened by a satirical gaze and a finely developed gift for evocative details. Anna Katharina Schaffner GUESTHOUSE AT THE SIGN OF THE TEETERING GLOBE with its unconventional plot twists carnivalesque characters and existential concerns will likely appeal to fans of both canonical writers like Kafka and Camus as well as contemporary authors. Jo o Gilberto Noll and Can Xue. Tyler Langendorfer The White Hotel D M Thomas, 2012-06-28 The worldwide bestselling Booker shortlisted modern classic. Now a BBC radio play starring Anne Marie Duff and Bill Paterson dramatised by Dennis Potter. Spine tingling heart stunning New York Times. A novel of blazing imaginative and intellectual force. Salman Rushdie. This novel is a reminder that fiction can amaze. Time. Precise troubling brilliant Observer. Shortlisted for the Man Booker Prize. The White Hotel is a modern classic of searing eroticism and sensuality set against the broad sweep of twentieth century history. It is a dream of electrifying eroticism and inexplicable violence recounted by a young woman to her analyst Sigmund Freud. It is a horrifying yet restrained narrative of the Holocaust. It is a searing vision of the wounds of our century and an attempt to heal them. Interweaving poetry and case history fantasy and historical truth telling. The White Hotel is a modern classic of enduring emotional power that attempts nothing less than to reconcile the notion of individual destiny with that of historical fate. A remarkable and original novel there is no novel to my knowledge which resembles this in technique or ideas. It stands alone. Graham Greene. Astonishing. A forthright sensuality mixed with a fine historical feeling for the nightmare moments in modern history. a dreamlike fluidity and quickness. John Updike. A dazzler that lingers in the mind. People
