The Problem with Grace Vincent Lloyd, 2011-04-04 This book develops a post secular post sectarian political theology taking that burgeoning field in a new direction. With his bold suggestion that political philosophy must begin with political theology Vincent Lloyd investigates a series of religious concepts such as love faith liturgy and revelation and explores their political relevance by extracting them from their Christian theological context while refusing to reduce them to secular terms. He assembles an unusual canon of thinkers too Jewish to be Christian and too Christian to be Jewish Simone Weil James Baldwin Franz Kafka and Gillian Rose to aid him in his explorations. Unique in its serious attention to both theological writing about politics and the work of academic philosophers and theorists The Problem with Grace deepens our understanding of political theological vocabulary as a way back to the everyday world. Politics is not about redemption but about grappling with the ever present difficulties tragedies and comedies of ordinary life

Radiology of Infectious Diseases: Volume 2 Hongjun Li, 2015-08-21 This book provides a comprehensive overview of diagnostic imaging in infectious diseases. It starts with a general review of infection diseases including their classification characteristics and epidemiology. In separate chapters the authors then introduce the radionuclide imaging of 50 kinds of infectious diseases. Volume 1 covers 21 viral infections. Volume 2 has 29 chapters discussing 24 bacterial infections and 5 parasitic infections. Each disease is clearly illustrated using cases combined with high quality computed tomography CT and magnetic resonance imaging MRI. The book provides a valuable reference source for radiologists and doctors working in the area of infectious diseases

Towards the River's Mouth (Verso la foce), by Gianni Celati Patrick Barron, 2018-12-03 Italian writer and filmmaker Gianni Celati's 1989 philosophical travelogue Towards the River's Mouth explores perception memory place and space as it recounts a series of journeys across the Po River Valley in northern Italy. The book seeks to document the new Italian landscape where divisions between the urban and rural were being blurred into what Celati terms a new variety of countryside where one breathes an air of urban solitude. Celati traveled by train by bus and on foot at times with photographer Luigi Ghirri at others exploring on his own without predetermined itineraries taking notes on the places he encountered watching and listening to people in stations fields bars houses squares and hotels. In this way the book took shape as Celati traveled and wrote gathering and rewriting his notes into stories of observation. Celati attempts to find meaning by seeking the uncertain limits of our ability to discern everyday surroundings. Every observation as he puts it needs to liberate itself from the familiar codes it carries to go adrift in the middle of all things not understood in order to arrive at an outlet where it must feel lost. At the forefront of the then nascent spatial turn in the humanities Towards the River's Mouth is a key text of what in recent years has been variously termed literary cartography literary geography and spatial poetics. Its call to carefully and affectionately examine our surroundings while attempting to step back from habitual ways of perceiving and moving through space has resonated as much with literary scholars and other writers as with geographers and architects By now a classic of twentieth century Italian literature it has in recent years garnered increasing attention especially with the growth of ecocriticism and new materialism within the environmental humanities This edition translated into English for the first time features an introduction that places Towards the River's Mouth in the context of Celati's other work and a selection of ten scholarly essays by prominent figures in comparative literature and Italian studies

Can love and friendship blossom on a rooftop? The residents in Brisbane's Riverview apartment block barely know each other. They have no idea of the loneliness, the lost hopes and dreams being experienced behind their neighbours' closed doors. Vera, now widowed, is trying her hardest to create a new life for herself in an unfamiliar city environment. Unlucky in love, Maddie has been hurt too many times by untrustworthy men yet refuses to give up on romance. Ned, a reclusive scientist, has an unusual interest in bees and worm farms. Meanwhile, the building's caretaker, Jock, is quietly nursing a secret dream. When a couple of gardening enthusiasts from one of the apartments suggest they all create a communal garden on their rooftop, no one is interested. Not at first, anyway. But as the residents come together over their budding plants and produce, their lives become interconnected in ways they could never have imagined. From award-winning novelist Barbara Hannay, The Garden of Hopes and Dreams is a timely and uplifting story about the importance of community and the healing power of connection.
