Mathematics for Geographers and Planners Alan Geoffrey Wilson, M. J. Kirkby, 1980 Mathematical Programming Methods for Geographers and Planners James E. Killen, 1983 Mathematical Programming Methods for Geographers and Planners James Killen, 2021-11-30 Originally published in 1983 this was the first text to offer an in depth treatment of mathematical programming methods explained from first principles It considers all the major programming techniques and fully explains key terms illustrates theories with detailed examples and shows how the various skills are applied in practice It will be invaluable in both the academic world and to policy formulators and planners who make extensive use of the methods described Mathematics for geographers and planners Alan Geoffrey Wilson, 1975 Environment & Planning , 1998

The Mathematical Gazette , 1976 Environment and Planning , 1991 Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2017-12-14 Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 36 focuses on 20th century Britain and 19th and 20th century France Six essays on individual geographers are complemented by a group article which describes the building of a French school of geography From Britain the life of Sir Peter Hall one of the most distinguished geographers of recent times and a man widely known outside the discipline is set alongside memoirs of Bill Mead who made the rich geography of the Nordic countries come alive to geographers and others in the Anglophone world Michael John Wise and Stanley Henry Beaver who made their mark through building up the institutions where academic geography was practised and through teaching and Anita McConnell whose geographical training shaped her museum curation and studies of the history of science From France the individual biography of Andr Meynier is juxtaposed with group article on the first five professors of geography at Clermont Ferrand These intellectual biographies collectively show geography and geographers profoundly affected by wider historical events the effect of war particularly the Second World War and the shaping of post war society They show the value of geographical scholarship in elucidating local circumstances and in planning national conditions and as a basis for local national and international friendship Mathematisation and Demathematisation , 2007-01-01 In this volume scholars from diverse strands of research have contributed their perspectives on a process of mathematisation which renders social economical or political relationships increasingly formal At the same time mathematical skills lose their importance as they become replaced by diverse technological tools a process of demathematisation takes place The computerization of financial transactions calculation of taxes and fees comparison of prices as well as orientation by means of GPS visualisation of complex data and electronic voting systems all these mathematical technologies increasingly penetrate the lifestyle of consumers What are the perils and promises of this development Who is in charge who is affected who is excluded A common concern of all the authors of this volume is an attempt to draw attention to issues related to the formatting power of mathematics and to its role as implicit knowledge which results in a process of demathematisation This process having once received considerable attention is now threatened to be eclipsed by the proliferation of a discussion of school mathematics which shows a tendency of cutting off its own philosophical and political roots Taken together the contributions reveal a rather complex picture They draw attention to the importance of clarifying epistemological societal and ideological issues as a prerequisite for a discussion of curriculum The Planner ,1975 Occupational Outlook Handbook United States.
