HISTORY

1994 In November 1994, the National Youth Work Conference recommended the creation of a Scottish Youth Council (SYC).

1997 A referendum was held in Scotland to decide if the country should have its own government. The following year, the Scotland Act established a Scottish Government and a Scottish Parliament.

1999 Henry McLeish, a Minister of State for Scotland, approved the constitution of the Scottish Youth Parliament (SYPP), which was officially launched on 30th June 1999 – one day before the official opening of the Scottish Parliament.

MISSION AND VALUES

- The SYPP is the democratically elected voice of Scotland's young people. It is a rights-based organisation, independent from all political parties and passionate about making young people aware of their rights.
- It is committed to being truly inclusive so that the members of the parliament (MSYPPs) may reflect the diversity of Scotland's young people. The MSYPPs work together to get policymakers and politicians to hear the voices of all young people from every community and background in Scotland.

SYPP'S MANIFESTO 2021-2026

From Scotland's Young People Manifesto is designed to help young people and decision-makers find out what issues are most important to Scotland's youth. All of the requests in our manifesto come directly from young people aged 12-25. MSYPPs also welcome blogs and vlogs from a wide range of young people across the country.

REPRESENTATION

This year, MSYPPs have selected four themes from the youth manifesto as national campaign priorities:

- Right to food
- Climate crisis
- Drug misuse as a public health issue
- Educational achievement

BECOME AN MSYPP

Becoming an MSYPP is a life-changing experience. You will be trained to become a leader, gain confidence, learn new skills and meet other inspiring young people. Young people living in Scotland, aged 14-25 at the time of the election, will be able to stand as an MSYPP candidate. Voting will vary across the country, but most young people aged 12-25 will be able to vote for their favourite candidate online, using their Young Scot card.
