Just War in the Middle Ages Frederick H. Russell, 1975-10-16 The first systematic attempt to reconstruct from original manuscript sources and early printed books the medieval doctrines relating to the just war the holy war and the crusade Despite the frequency of wars and armed conflicts throughout the course of western history no comprehensive survey has previously been made of the justifications of warfare that were elaborated by Roman lawyers canon lawyers and theologians in the twelfth and thirteenth century universities After a brief survey of theories of the just war in antiquity with emphasis on Cicero and Augustine and of thought on early medieval warfare the central chapters are devoted to scholastics such as Pope Innocent IV Hostiensis and Thomas Aquinas Professor Russell attempts to correlate theories of the just war with political and intellectual development in the Middle Ages His conclusion evaluates the just war in the light of late medieval and early modern statecraft and poses questions about its compatibility with Christian ethics and its validity within international law
