grandparents One hundred years after Queen Victoria's death Sweet forces us to think again about her century entombed in our minds by Dickens the Elephant Man Sweeney Todd and by images of unfettered capitalism and grinding poverty Sweet believes not only that we're wrong about the Victorians but profoundly indebted to them In ways we have been slow to acknowledge their age and our own remain closely intertwined The Victorians invented the theme park the shopping mall the movies the penny arcade the roller coaster the crime novel and the sensational newspaper story Sweet also argues that our twenty first century smugness about how far we have evolved is misplaced The Victorians were less racist than we are less religious less violent and less intolerant Far from being an outcast Oscar Wilde was a fairly typical Victorian man the love that dared not speak its name was declared itself fairly openly In 1868 the first international cricket match was played between an English team and an Australian team composed entirely of aborigines The Victorians loved sensation novelty scandal weekend getaways and the latest conveniences by 1869 there were image capable telegraphs in 1873 a store had a machine that dispensed milk to after hours shoppers Does all this sound familiar As Sweet proves in this fascinating eye opening book the reflection we find in the mirror of the nineteenth century is our own We inhabit buildings built by the Victorians some of us use their sewer system and ride on the railways they built We dismiss them because they are the age against whom we have defined our own In brilliant style Inventing the Victorians shows how much we have been missing
