Meaning Of Things:

The Meaning of Things Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi, Eugene Halton, 1981-10-30 The meaning of things is a study of the significance of material possessions in contemporary urban life and of the ways people carve meaning out of their domestic environment Drawing on a survey of eighty families in Chicago who were interviewed on the subject of their feelings about common household objects Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi and Eugene Halton provide a unique perspective on materialism American culture and the self They begin by reviewing what social scientists and philosophers have said about the transactions between people and things In the model of personhood that the authors develop goal directed action and the cultivation of meaning through signs assume central importance They then relate theoretical issues to the results of their survey An important finding is the distinction between objects valued for action and those valued for contemplation The authors compare families who have warm emotional attachments to their homes with those in which a common set of positive meanings is lacking and interpret the different patterns of involvement They then trace the cultivation of meaning in case studies of four families Finally the authors address what they describe as the current crisis of environmental and material exploitation and suggest that human capacities for the creation and redirection of meaning offer the only hope for survival A wide range of scholars urban and family sociologists clinical developmental and environmental psychologists cultural anthropologists and philosophers and many general readers will find this book stimulating and compelling

Thought and Things James Mark Baldwin, 1906

Form and Object Tristan Garcia, 2014-03-17 What is a thing What is an object Tristan Garcia decisively overturns 100 years of Heideggerian orthodoxy about the supposedly derivative nature of objects to put forward a new theory of ontology that gives us deep insights into the world and our place

The Meaning of Things A.C. Grayling, 2011-07-21 A refreshing distillation of insights into the human condition by one of the best known and most popular philosophers in the UK Thinking about life what it means and what it holds in store does not have to be a despondent experience but rather can be enlightening and uplifting A life truly worth living is one that is informed and considered so a degree of philosophical insight into the inevitabilities of the human condition is inherently important and such an approach will help us to deal with real personal dilemmas This book is an accessible lively and thought provoking series of linked commentaries based on A C Grayling's The Last Word column in the GUARDIAN Its aim is not to persuade readers to accept one particular philosophical point of view or theory but to help us consider the wonderful range of insights which can be drawn from an immeasurably rich history of philosophical thought Concepts covered include courage love betrayal ambition cruelty wisdom passion beauty and death This will be a wonderfully stimulating read and act as an invaluable guide as to what is truly important in living life whether facing success failure justice wrong love loss or any of the other profound experience life throws out

China Histories The earliest known written records of the history of China date from as early as 1250 BC from the Shang dynasty c 1600 1046 BC and the Bamboo Annals 296 BC describe a Xia dynasty c 2070 1600 BC before the Shang but no writing is known from the period The Shang ruled in the Yellow River valley which is commonly held to be the cradle of Chinese civilization However Neolithic civilizations originated at various cultural centers along both the Yellow River and Yangtze River These Yellow River and Yangtze civilizations arose millennia before the Shang With thousands of years of continuous history China is one of the world s oldest civilizations and is regarded as one of the cradles of civilization The Zhou dynasty 1046 256 BC supplanted the Shang and introduced the concept of the Mandate of Heaven to justify their rule The central Zhou government began to weaken due to external and internal pressures in the 8th century BC and the country eventually splintered into smaller states during the Spring and Autumn period These states became independent and warred with one another in the following Warring States period Much of traditional Chinese culture literature and philosophy first developed during those troubled times In 221 BC Qin Shi Huang conquered the various warring states and created for himself the title of Huangdi or emperor of the Qin marking the beginning of imperial China However the oppressive government fell soon after his death and was supplanted by the longer lived Han dynasty 206 BC 220 AD Successive dynasties developed bureaucratic systems that enabled the emperor to control vast territories directly In the 21 centuries from 206 BC until AD 1912 routine administrative tasks were handled by a special elite of scholar officials Young men well versed in calligraphy history literature and philosophy were carefully selected through difficult government examinations China s last dynasty was the Qing 1644 1912 which was replaced by the Republic of China in 1912 and in the mainland by the People s Republic of China in 1949 Chinese history has alternated between periods of political unity and peace and periods of war and failed statehood the most recent being the Chinese Civil War 1927 1949 China was occasionally dominated by steppe peoples most of whom were eventually assimilated into the Han Chinese culture and population Between eras of multiple kingdoms and warlordism Chinese dynasties have ruled parts or all of China in some eras control stretched as far as Xinjiang and Tibet as at present Traditional culture and influences from other parts of Asia and the Western world carried by waves of immigration cultural assimilation expansion and foreign contact form the basis of the modern culture of China

Educational Research: Material Culture and Its Representation Paul Smeyers, Marc Depaepe, 2014-02-10 This collection discusses and illustrates how educational research is affected by the economic institutional and physical contingencies of its time and in our time even increasingly is driven by them It is argued that the antidote to this is however not to aspire to thought itself but instead to do justice to its own rootedness in the material including textuality From an historical point of view such an innovative approach can itself revamp the material scholarly culture and the way it is represented The chapters address a variety of topics such as the cultural heritage of the school desk the significance of images for research into long term educational processes the way iconic signs function and how modes of enquiry relate to the materiality of education Attention is also given to standards for reporting on educational research studies and how these limit the scope and communication and moreover shape researchers to the forms of citation practices as substantially influencing methods and content and to the centrality of conversation not just as the means to an end but as what matters further to representational and to non representational theories for educational research Some examples are drawn from the area of arts based educational research from mathematics education and from the discourse on universities forefront of philosophy locate new feminist points of view within the discipline by rigorously engaging works of contemporary French philosophy In so doing they both transform the standard practices of the field and carve out new territory These writers amplify the work of feminist philosophers such as Simone de Beauvoir Luce Irigaray and Sarah Kofman in ways that are both stylistically and substantively creative They also appropriate for radical feminist use the works of male philosophers such as Michel Foucault Gilles Deleuze Maurice Merleau Ponty and Jean Paul Sartre The essays illustrate the manner in which feminist philosophers bypass traditional methodology in favor of a disciplinary freedom characterized by fluid methodologies best exemplified in Beauvoir s work and by the employment of imaginative forms including the autobiographical and the poetic The modes of inquiry used here range variously from psychoanalysis and existentialism to deconstruction post structuralism and newly resurgent phenomenology This volume also contains a comprehensive bibliography of feminist thinkers who are enacting French philosophy in English German and French
