Panzer Leader Heinz Guderian, 1957 The Battle of Prokhorovka Christopher A. Lawrence, 2019-06-01 The Battle of Kursk was one of the defining moments of World War II In July 1943 German forces under Erich von Manstein one of Germany's best generals launched a massive attack in an offensive code named Citadel A week later the Soviets counterattacked sparking a huge clash of tanks at Prokhorovka the largest armor battle in history pitting more than 600 Soviet tanks against some 300 German panzers Though the Germans gained a tactical victory destroying huge numbers of Soviet tanks they failed to achieve their objectives and in the end the battle marked a turning point on the Eastern Front The Red Army gained the strategic initiative and would not lose it Panzer Leader Heinz Guderian, 1952 Ready for Battle Azriel Lorber, 2014-10-30 Technology and its proper use constitute key components in the strength of any armed forces However battlefield technologies constantly evolve in the quest for competitive advantage with the rate at which new concepts and devices appear steadily increasing In the world of technological intelligence militaries worldwide not only seek to advance their technologies but to gather information about the latest technological and scientific developments of present and future adversaries evaluate their possible impacts and prevent as much as possible the advantages gained by technological surprise that sudden appearance of novel weapon systems that can tilt the success of an operation battle or even war While ample documentation circulates on operational intelligence defined as information about an enemy's order of battle and intentions and operational surprise technological intelligence and consequently technological surprise receives far less attention than today's military reality merits In Ready for Battle Technological Intelligence on the Battlefield Azriel Lorber rectifies this slant towards operational intelligence engaging through historical example and policy prescription technology's role in modern warfare and the dangers presented by technological inferiority on the one hand and technological surprise on the other Throughout he offers examples of well kept technological secrets that turned the tides of battle as well as less well hidden efforts that failed in their effect Ready for Battle analyzes the challenges presented and possible methods for addressing questions of technological surprise drawing on historical examples of failure and success and offering insights into the intricacies of technological deception This work will interest military historians and officers security analysts and defense industry professionals The Marshall Plan in Austria Gunter Bischof, Anton Pelinka, Dieter Stiefel, 2018-12-20 Perhaps no country benefitted more from the Marshall Plan for assistance in reconstruction of Europe after World War II than Austria On a per capita basis each American taxpayer invested 80 per person in the Plan each Austrian received 133 from the European recovery program more than any other of the sixteen participating countries Without the Marshall Plan the Austrian economic miracle of the 1950s would have been unthinkable Despite this contemporary Austria seems to have forgotten this essential American contribution to its postwar reconstruction This volume in the Contemporary Austrian Studies series examines how the plan affected Austria and how it is perceived today The political context of the Marshall Plan in Austria is addressed in essays by Jill Lewis and Matthew Berg Dieter Stiefer describes the vast Soviet economic exploitation of their Austrian occupation zone Andrea Komlosy shows how the Marshall Plan helped complete the division of Europe Siegfried Beer suggests the secret involvement of the CIA in the Marshall Plan while Hans J3rgen Schr der analyzes the effectiveness of Marshall Plan propaganda programs in Germany and Austria The macroeconomic impact of Marshall Plan funds on Austrian economic policy is outlined by Hans Seidel Kurt Tweraser Georg Rigele and G3nter Bischof suggest the microeconomic importance of funds for the steel electricity and tourist sectors of the Austrian economy Wilhelm Kohler s sweeping analysis compares the American transfer of funds to postwar Europe with current debates about the cost of European Union enlargement The legacy of the Marshall Plan is addressed by former Austrian Finance Minister Ferdinand Lacina Kurt Loffler and Hans Fubenegger summarize the activities of the Economic Recovery Program Fund Coming on the heels of the fiftieth anniversary of the Marshall Plan this compelling overview of the Plan and its impact will be important for historians those interested in international politics and Austrian scholars G3nter Bischof is professor of history and associate director of Center Austria at the University of New Orleans Anton Pelinka is professor of political science at the University of Innsbruck and director of the Institute of Conflict Research in Vienna Dieter Stiefel is professor of social and economic history at the University of Vienna and executive secretary of the Schumpeter Society in Vienna This volume offers a collection of articles mostly by contemporary Austrian born historians touching on various phases of the Marshall Plan administered through the European Recovery Program ERP and its successors counterfunds assistance to the present A splendid introduction followed by the key thirteen articles on the plan is augmented by several nontopical essays and book reviews along with a survey of Austrian politics in 1998 A number of articles emanated from a 1998 conference at the University of New Orleans Both novice and specialist will appreciate this book The Historian

Aces at Kursk Christopher A Lawrence, 2024-07-25 The Battle of Kursk in July 1943 is known for being the largest tank battle in history A Russian victory it marked the decisive end of the German offensive capability on the Eastern Front and set the scene for the Soviet successes that followed While many have focused on the tank engagements especially the Battle of Prokhorovka there was an intense air battle going on overhead that was bigger than the Battle of Britain As part of the German offensive the Luftwaffe s VIII Air Corps deployed around 1 100 aircraft in the south alone while the opposing Soviet Second and Seventeenth air armies initially deployed over 1 600 aircraft There was a similar effort surrounding the German attack in the north The battle in the south began with a Soviet air strike on German airfields and a fight for control of the air that continued throughout the day across the front On the first day of the battle 5 July 1943 the Germans flew at least 2 387 sorties in the south while the two Soviet air armies flew 1 688 sorties That first day of battle resulted in 19 to 27 German planes and 189 Soviet aircraft shot down This was an aerial engagement like no other ever seen before Involved on the German side were the 52nd and 3rd Fighter Wings The 52nd Fighter Wing was the most accomplished fighter wing in history and many of its top aces were involved in the combats over the Kursk battlefield These included Walter Krupinski 197 claimed kills in the war G nther Rall the third highest scoring ace in history 275 claimed kills and the highest scoring ace in history Erich Hartmann 352 claimed kills Opposing them were what were to become three of the top five Soviet aces Kirill Yevstigneyev 53 claimed kills Nikolai Gulayev 55 claimed kills and the top scoring Allied ace of the war Ivan Kozhedub 62 claimed kills This was indeed the battle of the aces But there was also the massive ground attack effort by both sides including the Junkers Ju 87 Stuka fitted with 37mm anti tank guns flown by the man who would become most decorated soldier of the Third Reich Hans Ulrich Rudel The aerial battle involved hundreds of Soviet Sturmoviks or IL 2s Stalin s armored ground attack plane The battle featured the famous attack by Luftwaffe Hs 129s and Fw 190s on Soviet armor on 8 July 1943 Aces at Kursk is not just a war story but a revealing investigation that analyses the entire air battle that turned the tide of the war on the Eastern Front

How to Prevent Genocide John G. Heidenrich, 2001-04-30 Genocide the deliberate destruction usually through mass murder of an ethnic racial or religious group is the ultimate crime against humanity Drawing upon a wide variety of disciplines this study assesses ways to prevent this crime While most books about genocide focus on the history of a particular event such as the Holocaust or compare case studies to derive empirical theories this book outlines many practical aspects of genocide prevention Heidenrich covers a broad spectrum of expert opinions from Stanley Hoffmann to Henry Kissinger as well as political opinions regarding genocide that range from Ronald Reagan to Bill Clinton Topics include international law humanitarian intervention early warning measures and the effectiveness of such methods as diplomacy economic pressure and nonviolent resistance Preventing genocide in a tense socio political environment is no easy task but such prevention is easier and more cost effective than trying to put an end to genocide once it is already occurring

Limited War and American Defense Policy Seymour J. Deitchman, 1969 The Forgotten Field Marshal, Wilhelm Keitel Gene Mueller, 1979 Faint Praise Charles M. Baily, 1983 Toward the end of World War II newspapers revealed what American soldiers had discovered months before when Sherman tanks tried to slug it out with the heavier German Panzers they came out second best Historical argument has it that the hidebound conservatives of the Army effectively blocked the introduction of superior fighting vehicles based on their tactical dogmas that tank destroyers not tanks should fight German armor Faint Praise disagrees with this notion and instead reveals that problems in tank development resulted from a complicated and often confusing melange of technology doctrine combat experience intelligence and personalities Further it dispels the myth that soldiers were pleading for a better armed Sherman throughout the war The demand for big guns did not start until mid 1944 leaving little time for a technological solution to Panzer killing Using new fascinating sources and a fresh look at some old ones Faint Praise considers the full spectrum of historically relevant facts from technological capabilities to operational history to provide a new answer to the tank question of World War II

War Paul Francis Diehl, 2005 The Soviet Invasion of Afghanistan Joseph J. Collins, 1986 Bekriver de sovjetisk afghanske

relationer før og efter indmarchen hvordan selve invasionen foregik og Sovjetunionens motiver hertil Endvidere beskrives Afghanistans indre forhold under det marxistiske styre Kursk 1943 Anders Frankson, Niklas Zetterling, 2016-12-05 The battle at Kursk in 1943 is often referred to as the greatest tank battle in the history of warfare This volume makes extensive use of German archival documents as well as various Russian books and articles As well as an account of the battle it addresses methodological issues History, 1970 American Book Publishing Record R.R. Bowker Company, 1978 The Publishers Weekly, 1965 The Battle of Kursk, July 1943 Joseph Edward Thach, 1971 The objective of this thesis by a thorough analysis of the Eastern Front and the European war during 1943 is to conclusively prove that the Battle of Kursk marked the decisive turning point in the huge conflict between Germany and the U S S R Besides the Eastern combat operations other key political and military events of that critical year are evaluated to further show that the Allies did not confront Germany with a powerful land sea and air threat until mid 1943 The strategic results of the Kursk campaign timed with these other Allied successes also revealed that only in its aftermath was Germany irrevocably placed on the path towards ultimate defeat and the Soviet Union towards full status as a world power Abstract To Change an Army Harold R. Winton, 1988 Between WWI and II tank design and tactics underwent a revolution It was not only a case of building better tanks but also developing the organization and tactics to use these tools effectively This book describes the process of military reform Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Men in Arms Richard Arthur Preston, Sydney F. Wise, 1979 General Sir John Burnett-Stuart and British Military Reform, 1927-1938 Harold R. Winton, 1977
