Paradox Or on Great Pond Brian Heaton-Jones,2003-03-01 For better or for worse and yet Spouses take no heed

Futurism and the African Imagination Dike Okoro,2021-12-30 This book investigates how African authors and artists have explored themes of the future and technology within their works Afrofuturism was coined in the 1990s as a means of exploring the intersection of African diaspora culture with technology science and science fiction However this book argues that literature and other arts within Africa have always reflected on themes of futurism across diverse forms of speculative writing including science fiction images spirituality myth magical realism the supernatural performance and other forms of oral resources This book reflects on themes of African futurism across a range of literary and artistic works also investigating how problems such as racism sexism social injustice and postcolonialism are reflected in these narratives Chapters cover authors artists movements and performers such Wole Soyinka Ben Okri Ngugi wa Thiong o Elechi Amadi Mazisi Kunene Nnedi Okorafor Lauren Beukes Leslie Nneka Arimah and the New African Movement The book also includes a range of original interviews with prominent authors and artists including Tanure Ojaide Lauren Beukes Patricia Jabbeh Wesley Benjamin Kwakye Ntongela Masilela and Bruce Onobrakpeya Interdisciplinary in its approach this book will be an important resource for researchers across the fields of African literature philosophy culture and politics Gazetteer of the Lakes, Ponds, and Reservoirs of the State of New York United States. Federal Board of Surveys and Maps,1931 Caring for Words in a Culture of Lies Marilyn Chandler McEntyre,2009-06-02 The author offers 12 strategies of stewardship for those concerned with preserving the vitality and precision of the spoken and written word Journal of the Association of Engineering Societies ... ,1908 Documents of the Assembly of the State of New York New York (State). Annual Report of the Forest, Fish and Game Commission of the State of New York New York (State). Forest, Fish and Game Commission,1897 Wallace Stevens and the Seasons George S. Lensing,2004-04-01 This fruitful pairing of literary and biographical interpretation follows Wallace Stevens s poetry through the lens of its dominant metaphor the seasons of nature and illuminates the poet s personal life experiences reflected there From Stevens s first collection Harmonium 1923 to his last poems written shortly before his death in 1955 George S Lensing offers clear and detailed examination of Stevens s seasonal poetry including extensive discussions of Autumn Refrain The Snow Man The World as Meditation and Credences of Summer Drawing upon a vast knowledge of the poet Lensing argues that Stevens s pastoral poetry of the seasons assuaged a profound and persistent personal loneliness An important scholarly assessment of a major twentieth century modernist Wallace Stevens and the Seasons also serves as an appealing introduction to Stevens The Singer on the Shore Gabriel Josipovici,2006-05-28 Two central themes run through this new collection of authoritative and undogmatic essays the Jewish experience and that of the work of art as a toy to be used for dreaming and playing rather than

as a window to the world The collection includes three essays on the Bible as well as pieces devoted to Twelfth Night Rembrandt's self portraits Tristram Shandy Kafka's stories and aphorisms Borges Kierkegaard and painter Andrez Jackowski The title essay examines the relationship of the artist's works and their ideas and the book concludes with personal meditations on memory the Holocaust Jewishness and being a writer teacher Annual Report of the Superintendent of State Forests ... New York (State). Forest, Fish and Game Commission, 1897 Late Stevens B. J. Leggett, 2005-07-01 If one no longer believes in God as truth Wallace Stevens once wrote it is not possible merely to disbelieve it becomes necessary to believe in something else I say that one's final belief must be in a fiction Stevens addressed the concept of a supreme fiction throughout much of his career but many critics feel that his poems never realized that concept beyond a theoretical possibility B J Leggett argues that Stevens did indeed achieve the supreme fiction in his often overlooked late poems To share in the poet's vision though Leggett finds that readers must understand the ingenious intertext that runs through this culminating body of work After three volumes of difficult and abstract poetry Stevens in the last five years of his life reverted to a style that is refreshingly personal and accessible Leggett gives close examination to The Rock which is the closing section of Stevens's Collected Poems and to the uncollected poems published as Opus Posthumous supplying readers with the motifs conventions texts and fictions or intertext on which these works significance depends He ultimately shows that there is a kind of master narrative in Stevens's late poems one that is not always explicitly present but that is based on the supreme fiction It is here that Stevens gives form to his belief Leggett traces the development of this fiction and demonstrates how knowledge of its presence dramatically changes the reading of key poems His discussion of Schopenhauer's influence on Stevens together with rich analyses of major poems challenges to conventional interpretations and speculation on the direction Stevens's poetry might have taken had he lived longer all make for provocative reading Late Stevens is a book for anyone who thought they knew this poet Annual Report New York (State). Engineer and Surveyor, 1914

The American Reformer, 1884 The West African Village Novel, with Particular Reference to Elechi Amadi's The Concubine George Nyamndi, 1982 George Nyamndi provides in this work an historical and analytical study of the West African village novel Starting with history he locates in the contact of Western and African cultures the circumstances that gave birth to the genre He traces the development of the West African village novel through the different phases of adjustment to its present directions underlining both its particularities in theme and treatment and its similarities to other literatures of the world born of the clash of values Particular attention is given to Elechi Amadi a major though little known West African village novelist George Nyamndi focuses on Amadi's The Concubine to demonstrate the author's artistic achievements as well as the relevance of his themes to African culture and society The Sportsman's Gazetteer and General Guide Charles Hallock, 1877 Country Life Illustrated, 1905 Journal of the Association of Engineering Societies ... Association of Engineering Societies (U.S.), 1908 Good Housekeeping, 1927 Report of the Progress of
