Meaning And The Structure Of Language:

Meaning and the Structure of Language Wallace L. Chafe, 1973    General Principles of the Structure of Language James Byrne, 1885    The Structure of Language Emma L. Pavely, 2010-08-19 Most of the time we communicate using language without considering the complex activity we are undertaking forming words and sentences in a split second. This book introduces the analysis of language structure combining both description and theory within a single practical text. It begins by examining words and parts of words and then looks at how words work together to form sentences that communicate meaning. Sentence patterns across languages are also studied looking at the similarities and the differences we find in how languages communicate meaning. The book also discusses how context can affect how we structure our sentences the context of a particular language and its structures the context of old and new information for us and our addressees and the context of our culture    Deconstructing Language Structure and Meaning Mihaela Tănase-Dogaru, Alina Tigău, Mihaela Zamfirescu, 2021-07-01 This volume brings together a number of researchers working on generative syntax and semantics language acquisition and phonology to explore various theoretical frameworks ranging from generative grammar and formal semantics to more descriptive approaches. The contributions gathered here investigate various aspects in the syntax semantics phonology and acquisition of Romanian in comparison with other mainly Romance languages. The book will be of interest to linguists who are keen on keeping up with the latest advances in the field of Romance studies as well as those whose research bears on languages such as Hungarian German and Maltese among others    The Organization of Meaning in Language Benjamin Althaus, 2005-06-26 Essay from the year 2005 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 2 University of Cologne Englisch Seminar course Hauptseminar language English abstract Language enables humans to convey and exchange information about the world they live in. A person's interpretation of the real world is represented by the conceptual structure in the head. Concepts are organized bundles of stored knowledge which represent an articulation of events entities situations and so on. Cruse 2004 125 In order to interact with the world successfully one must have a concept of its structure and meaning this concept can be represented by human language. This ability is species specific i.e. only humans can manipulate the world symbolically. Furthermore symbolic behaviour is species uniform which means that all humans have the ability for it. Children seem to acquire a language automatically according to a certain pattern. They learn a language on the basis of cultural context and without real instruction linguistic ability appears to be a genetic predisposition of the human race. It is a fundamental aspect of our life as our understanding of the world is imposed on us by our language's distinction. Pinker 1994 154 This essay will explain how meaning of language is organized and how it is reflected in the structure of language. I will first deal with the nature of the sign and then go on to explain how the meaning of complex signs is built up by word formation processes. The last part of the essay will investigate some of the processes which are involved when we categorize the world    Meaning and Structure
