A Sun within a Sun Claire Chi-ah Lyu, 2010-11-23 A Sun within a Sun is a sustained poetic reflection on the enterprise of poetry on what poetry is and might be not only for poet and theorist but also for reader critic teacher and student It sees poetry as life at its most genuine Using Baudelaire and Mallarmé as principal examples but drawing on a wide range of poets and thinkers from Greek mythology to Poe Rimbaud Rilke and Blake from Nietzsche Gilles Deleuze and Italo Calvino to William James and Henry Miller Claire Chi ah Lyu challenges contemporary poetic theory using precise and acute deconstruction of poetic imagery to reconstruct language so that it celebrates both meaning and beauty A Sun within a Sun explores the notions of lightness and weight discipline and indulgence freedom and loss of will that are inherent in the poetic enterprise It poses that lightness discipline freedom and risk are essential for an approach to the enigma of beauty through an elegant shaping of form that holds true not only in poetry but also in pure science and even fashion Poetry is a language within a language a heightened and intense awareness of what words mean and what they can do at its best creating an intensity of a sun within a sun The poet and reader of poetry must take the risk Icarus took of approaching the sun for without the risk there is no fulfillment A Sun within a Sun seeks a shaping of form and content that discovers poetry as power as a practice of life that honors and makes possible both thought and feeling

Opium and the Romantic

Imagination Alethea Hayter, 2015-07-30 Does the habit of taking drugs make authors write better or worse or differently Does it alter the quality of their consciousness shape their imagery influence their technique For the Romantic writers of the nineteenth century many of whom experimented with opium and some of whom were addicted to it this was an important question but it has never been fully answered In this study Alethea Hayter examines the work of five writers Crabbe Coleridge De Quincey Wilkie Collins and Francis Thompson who were opium addicts for many years and of several other writers notably Keats Edgar Allan Poe and Baudelaire but also Walter Scott Dickens Mrs Browning James Thomson and others who are known to have taken opium at times The work of these writers is discussed in the context of nineteenth century opinion about the uses and dangers of opium and of Romantic ideas on the creative imagination on dreams and hypnagogic visions and on imagery so that the idiosyncrasies of opium influenced writing can be isolated from their general literary background The examination reveals a strange and miserable region of the mind in which some of the greatest poetic imaginations of the nineteenth century were imprisoned Artificial Paradise Charles Baudelaire, 2000 Charles Baudelaire Arthur Symons, 1920 Les Paradis Artificiels Charles P Baudelaire, 2022-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Charles Baudelaire François Porché, 1928 Les Paradis Artificiels, 2008 Les paradis artificiels Charles Baudelaire, 1860 Paradis artificiels Charles Baudelaire, 1889
