Nature Reborn:

Ecotheology Kiara Jorgenson, Alan G. Padgett, 2020-09-24 Just as God loves creation so are Christians called to care for it Now amid the accelerating degradation of our global environment that task has taken on greater urgency than ever How should Christians respond to the climate crisis and widespread pollution of earth's shared commons water and air How might Christian communities think about human responsibility to other living creatures In roundtable format Richard Bauckham Cynthia Moe Lobeda Steven Bouma Prediger and John F Haught navigate the layers of what it means for humans to live in right relationship with earth's lifecosystems After each contributor's essay the other three contributors issue a response including points of disagreement and questions thereby modeling for readers productive and respectful dialogue The ecumenical conversations in Ecotheology represent the diverse viewpoints of contributors theological and practical commitments exploring creation care through a variety of frameworks including natural science biblical studies systematic theology and Christian ethics

Creation Care Discipleship Steven Bouma-Prediger, 2023-10-17 Although our planet faces numerous ecological crises including climate change many Christians continue to view their faith as primarily a spiritual matter that has little relationship to the world in which we live But Steven Bouma Prediger contends that protecting and restoring our planet is part and parcel of what it means to be a Christian Making his case from Scripture theology and ethics and including insights from the global church Bouma Prediger explains why Christians must acknowledge their identity as earthkeepers and therefore embrace their calling to serve and protect their home planet and fellow creatures To help readers put an earthkeeping faith into practice he also suggests numerous practical steps that concerned believers can take to care for the planet Bouma Prediger unfolds a biblical vision of earthkeeping and challenges Christians to view care for the earth as an integral part of Christian discipleship

Development and Justice

Rajula Annie Watson, 2004 Restoring the health of the land is indispensable not only because it is the ground of our sustenance and survival but also land has in itself the inherent worth This book challenges humanity's indulgence and activities of development science and technology and insists for human responsibility and moral duties towards the land the sustaining mother earth which is abused ransacked of its wealth and ignored of its intrinsic value The study attempts to bring together perspectives and values that are important for preserving the rights of the land and proposes the contour of a land ethic

Ecology of Vocation Kiara A. Jorgenson, 2020-05-15 Critically surveying various approaches to Christian ecological ethics alongside the vexing moral ambiguities of the Anthropocene Ecology of Vocation offers an integrative approach to responsible living vis vis one of Protestantism's key theological resources the doctrine of vocation Drawing on H Richard Niebuhr's germinal ethical framework with a decidedly ecofeminist perspective Kiara A Jorgenson demonstrates how vocation's emphasis on right relationship practically speaks to the embodied realities of planetary interrelatedness By excavating the ecological promise of the early Reformers democratized renderings of calling and linking their concerns to the contemporary context she argues that vocation cannot be reduced to the particular aim of monetized work nor to an elitist escape from it Rather vocation must be recast as the dynamic and vibrant space among the myriad roles any of us inhabits at any given time in a particular place When understood in this light vocation signals much more than a job a passion or a quest for self discovery An alternative understanding of vocation's very ecology can extend Christian conceptions of the neighbor beyond the human and lead the church to more faithfully pursue lives characterized by humility restraint wisdom justice and love

The Evolution of Rationality F. LeRon Shults, 2006-11-09 How can science and religion move together toward a collegial future J Wentzel van Huyssteen has spent decades developing an interdisciplinary platform for the fruitful engagement of science and religion Compiled to celebrate van Huyssteen's 65th birthday The Evolution of Rationality gathers a stellar roster of scholars in van Huyssteen's main areas of philosophy science and theology The contributors some of them Gifford lecturers and Templeton Prize winners offer significant new methodological and material proposals giving evidence of van Huyssteen's impact on the shape and texture of interdisciplinary conversation itself Their essays are arranged in three parts modern and postmodern philosophical challenges to our understanding of rationality scientific evolutionary perspectives on the nature and development of human rationality in relation to religion religious and theological explorations of the evolution of rationality However because the authors are all involved in interdisciplinary dialogue this philosophical scientific theological arrangement of chapters is not hard and fast Virtually every essay engages issues that overlap all three fields forming an extremely rich blend of thought A creative interdisciplinary collection written by world renowned philosophers scientists and theologians The Evolution of Rationality renders fitting tribute to pioneering scholar mentor J Wentzel van Huyssteen Contributors John Hedley Brooke Delwin Brown Philip Clayton Jean Clottes F W Dobbs Allsopp David Fergusson Niels Henrik Gregersen David Lewis Williams George Newlands Richard Robert Osmer
