shocking upheavals in both the economy and in ideas of selfhood in a commercial society Narratives such as Horatio Alger s rags to riches tales allured Americans with visions of financial success while events such as the Panics of 1819 1837 1857 and 1865 threatened them with sudden and devastating financial failure The antebellum period s go ahead ethos encouraged individuals to form an identity amid this chaos by striving for financial success through risk taking that is to form a capitalist self Andrew Kopec argues that writers of this era were not immune to this business turbulence rather their responses to it shaped the development of American literature By examining the public and private writings of well known American writers including Washington Irving Catharine Maria Sedgwick Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville and Frederick Douglass Kopec contends that instead of anxiously retreating from the volatile market these figures deliberately engaged with it in their writing These writers grappled with both the limits and opportunities of capitalist selfhood and tried in various ways to harness the economy s energies for the benefit of the self In making this argument Kopec invites readers to consider how this era of American literature questioned the ideologies of capitalist identity that seem inescapable today Navigating Failure: Examining Failure Communication in Leadership and Entrepreneurship Julia Büntig, 2024 Amendments to the
