Nature Sparks Aerial Cross, 2011-10-11 Nature has monumental power on children's growth and development. Recent studies show that as children spend less time in nature they miss out on the profound benefits that outdoor play and learning experiences provide. Nature Sparks is filled with inspiration and instruction to help educators and caregivers of children ages three to eight reclaim and strengthen connections to the outdoors. This resource supplies ideas to create a nature-oriented classroom and curriculum that incorporates Howard Gardner's theory of multiple intelligences to encourage children's individual talents as they experience the natural world and includes more than fifty sensory-integrated activities, crafts, and instructional strategies.

Nature Sir Norman Lockyer, 1917 Nature London, 1871 Representations of "Japanese Nature" Emiko Ohnuki-Tierney, 2025-02-01 Nature as a concept and word is extremely elusive yet it is commonly taken for granted that the pristine nature is out there. This book explores the factors that have naturalized the idea of nature as pristine into our psyche and as something that has a spatial, visual, and temporal dimension for seasons. Much emphasis is given to the inhabitants demonstrating the dynamic characteristic of nature. As a study done over a long period of history, Representations of Japanese Nature shows the mutual support between conceptual principles of nature and the daily activities of the people.

Nature Conservation in Southern Africa, 2018-11-26 Nature conservation in southern Africa has always been characterised by an interplay between capital-specific understandings of morality and forms of militarism that are all dependent upon the shared subservience and marginalization of animals and certain groups of people in society. Although the subjectivity of people has been rendered visible in earlier publications on histories of conservation in southern Africa, the subjectivity of animals is hardly ever seriously considered or explicitly dealt with. In this edited volume, the subjectivity and sentience of animals is explicitly included. The contributors argue that the shared human and animal marginalisation and agency in nature conservation in southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation. Contributors are Malcolm Draper, Vupenyu Dzingirai, Jan Bart, Gerald Michael, Glover Paul, Hebinck Tariro, Kamuti Lindiwe, Mangwanya Albert, Manhamo Dhoya, Snijders Marja, Spierenburg Sandra, Swart Harry, Wels We're Going on a Nature Hunt Steve Metzger, 2007 On a perfect spring day three friends go on a nature hunt.

Nature, God and Humanity Richard L. Fern, 2002-04-04 Nature, God, and Humanity clarifies the task of forming an ethics of nature thereby empowering readers to develop their own critical faith-based ethics. Calling on original thought, provoking analyses, and arguments, Richard L. Fern frames a philosophical ethics of nature, assesses it scientifically, finds support for it in traditional biblical theism, and situates it culturally. Though defending the moral value of beliefs affirming the radical Otherness of God and human uniqueness, this book aims not to compel the adoption of any particular ethic but rather illumine the contribution diverse forms of inquiry make to an ethics of nature. How does philosophy clarify moral conviction? What does science tell us about nature? Why does religious faith matter? Rejecting the illusion of a single rationally compelling ethics, Fern answers these questions in a way that fosters both agreement and disagreement allowing those holding conflicting ethics of nature to work together for the common good
