world By the canons of orthodox social science countries like India are not supposed to have an environmental consciousness They are as it were too poor to be green In this deeply researched book Ramachandra Guha challenges this narrative by revealing a virtually unknown prehistory of the global movement set far outside Europe or America Long before the publication of Rachel Carson's Silent Spring and well before climate change ten remarkable individuals wrote with deep insight about the dangers of environmental abuse from within an Indian context In strikingly contemporary language Rabindranath Tagore Radhakamal Mukerjee J C Kumarappa Patrick Geddes Albert and Gabrielle Howard Mira Verrier Elwin K M Munshi and M Krishnan wrote about the forest and the wild soil and water urbanization and industrialization Positing the idea of what Guha calls livelihood environmentalism in contrast to the full stomach environmentalism of the affluent world these writers activists and scientists played a pioneering role in shaping global conversations about humanity's relationship with nature Spanning more than a century of Indian history and decidedly transnational in reference this book offers rich resources for considering the threat of climate change today

Places of Nature in Ecologies of Urbanism Anne Rademacher, K. Sivaramakrishnan, 2017-03-01 If twenty first century urbanization is understood as a problem its regional epicenter is the cities in Asia Facing unprecedented diversity in scale scope and environmental dynamics in the Asian urban experience scholars will need an approach that can truly capture the significance of place and context The challenge as this volume illustrates can be met by the analytic of ecologies of urbanism Eschewing a rigid single ecology the contributors identify multiple forms of nature in biophysical cultural and political terms that have discernable impact on power relations and human social action The case studies in this book including leopards in Mumbai a network of tubewells in northern India an island that grows through reclamation in Hong Kong and a railway continuum linking Khon Kaen and Bangkok all attest to the versatility of ecologies of urbanism Guided by urban processes rather than geopolitical boundaries Places of Nature in Ecologies of Urbanism offers a picture of urban Asia that is composed of varied ecologies of urbanism
