My German Question:

My German Question Peter Gay, 1998-10-07 Not only a memoir it is also a fierce reply to those who criticized German Jewish assimilation and the tardiness of many families in leaving Germany Publishers Weekly In this poignant book a renowned historian tells of his youth as an assimilated anti religious Jew in Nazi Germany from 1933 to 1939 the story says Peter Gay of a poisoning and how I dealt with it With his customary eloquence and analytic acumen Gay describes his family the life they led and the reasons they did not emigrate sooner and he explores his own ambivalent feelings then and now toward Germany its people Gay relates that the early years of the Nazi regime were relatively benign for his family yet even before the events of 1938-39 culminating in Kristallnacht they were convinced they must leave the country Gay describes the bravery and ingenuity of his father in working out this difficult emigration process the courage of the non Jewish friends who helped his family during their last bitter months in Germany and the family's mounting panic as they witnessed the indifference of other countries to their plight and that of others like themselves Gay's account marked by candor modesty and insight adds an important and curiously neglected perspective to the history of German Jewry Not a single paragraph is superfluous His inquiry rivets without let up powered by its unremitting candor Los Angeles Times Book Review An eloquent memoir The Wall Street Journal A moving testament to the agony the author experienced Chicago Tribune A valuable chronicle of what life was like for those who lived through persecution and faced execution Choice German

Question/Jewish Question Paul Lawrence Rose, 2014-07-14 In this compelling narrative of antisemitism in German thought Paul Rose proposes a fresh view of the topic Beginning with an examination of the attitudes of Martin Luther he challenges distinctions between theologically derived medieval and secular racial modern antisemitism arguing that there is an unbroken chain of antisemitic feeling between the two periods Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Broken Lives Konrad H. Jarausch, 2019-11-19 The gripping stories of ordinary Germans who lived through World War II the Holocaust and Cold War partition but also recovery reunification and rehabilitation Broken Lives is a gripping account of ordinary Germans who came of age under Hitler and whose lives were scarred and sometimes destroyed by what they saw and did Drawing on six dozen memoirs by Germans born in the 1920s Konrad Jarausch chronicles the unforgettable stories of people who not only lived through the Third Reich World War II the Holocaust and Cold War partition but also participated in Germany's astonishing postwar recovery reunification and rehabilitation Bringing together the voices of men and women perpetrators and victims Broken Lives offers new insights about persistent questions Why did so many Germans support

Hitler through years of wartime sacrifice and Nazi inhumanity How did they finally distance themselves from the Nazi past and come to embrace human rights The result is a powerful portrait of the experiences of average Germans who journeyed into through and out of the abyss of a dark century Dynamics of Emigration Stefan Berger,Philipp Müller,2022-08-12 As a pioneering volume to consider the impact of exile on historical scholarship in the twentieth century in a systematic and global way looking at Europe North America South America and Asia Dynamics of Emigration asks about epistemic repercussions on the experience of exile and exiles Analyzing both the impact that exile scholars had on their host societies and on the societies they had to leave the volume investigates exiles pathways to integration into new host societies and the many difficulties they face establishing themselves in new surroundings Focusing on the age of extremes and the realms of exile from fascist and right wing dictatorships as well as communist regimes the contributions look at the reasons scholars have for going into exile while providing side by side examination of the support organizations and paths for success involved with living in exile The Making of Psychohistory Paul H Elovitz,2018-04-17 The Making of Psychohistory is the first volume dedicated to the history of psychohistory an amalgam of psychology history and related social sciences Dr Paul Elovitz a participant since the early days of the organized field recounts the origins and development of this interdisciplinary area of study as well as the contributions of influential individuals working within the intersection of historical and psychological thinking and methodologies This is an essential thorough reflection on the rich and varied scholarship within psychohistory s subfields of applied psychoanalysis political psychology and psychobiography Holocaust Literature: Agosin to Lentin S. Lillian Kremer,2003 Review This encyclopedia offers an authoritative and comprehensive survey of the important writers and works that form the literature about the Holocaust and its consequences The collection is alphabetically arranged and consists of high quality biocritical essays on 309 writers who are first second and third generation survivors or important thinkers and spokespersons on the Holocaust An essential literary reference work this publication is an important addition to the genre and a solid value for public and academic libraries The Top 20 Reference Titles of the Year American Libraries May 2004 Bismarck Otto Bismarck (Fürst von),1898 A New German Question? Karsten D.
