Miyoshi,2020-11-23 The movement of designed objects is not just something purely functional but also triggers a wide range of sensations A curtain swaying gently in the wind can cause the onlooker to feel easy and relaxed as if it was he or she who is floating in the air This imagined projection caused by the perception of moving objects is called kinesthetic empathy In this study which followed on from a dissertation at the School of Design Research in London the author investigates the esthetics of movement by documenting his own design based learning and research process in terms of research through design using the experimental cooperation with puppet players as an example He thereby creates a framework that allows designers to observe the esthetics of objects in motion as a trigger of feelings     The Architect & Building News ,1930     The Law Journal Reports ,1896     The Law Reports ,1896     The Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute ,1892
