Of Outer And Inner Space:

Inner Space/outer Space Edward W. Kolb,1985 Of Outer and Inner Space Harry Hall Sisler,1981 Between Inner Space and Outer Space John D. Barrow,2000 Autism and the Crisis of Meaning Alexander Durig,1996-02-01

Autism and the Crisis of Meaning presents a systematic way of understanding the logic of meaningful perception in everyday life Working from concepts of formal logic and logical inference the author suggests that informal logics of social inferencing may address part of the way we organize our perceptions in social life By discussing the way our social inferencing reflects inductive deductive and abductive logics the social inferencing theory of meaningful perception is shown to entail a theory of autistic perception Durig shows that everyday meaningful perception may be organized largely by a balanced ratio of inductive to deductive logics and that autistic perception is comprised of significantly higher levels of deductive social inferencing relative to inductive social inferencing This perception theory is capable of addressing the five core behaviors associated with autism By presenting meaningful perception and autistic perception in terms of ratios of social inferencing Durig introduces a concept of slight autism an individual may have normative inductive social inferencing and super deductive social inferencing thus accounting for a highly intelligent person who nevertheless has difficulty expressing themselves in formal social situations

Role of Ecosystem Services in Enabling Rural-Urban Synergies Maria Rosario Partidario,Daniel Keech,Isabel Loupa-Ramos,2025-09-30 This open access book elaborates on the role Ecosystem Services play in relation to establishing and enhancing rural urban synergies It draws on the concept of Ecosystem Services ESS as the ecological characteristics functions or processes that directly or indirectly contribute to human wellbeing that is the benefits that people derive from functioning ecosystems The empirical and theoretical research that supports the various contributions in this book was developed in the context of the project H2020 ROBUST Rural Urban Outlooks Unlocking Synergies GA 727988 The project was structured in five Communities of Practice CoP as groups of researchers sharing a common thematic interest One of these CoP was dedicated to ESS and aimed to investigate its role in unlocking synergies across rural and urban territories Strategic approaches to integrate ESS in spatial planning were developed associating ESS use and delivery to planning instruments and governance models at multiple scales The approach assumes the engagement of multiple actors both as users of ESS but also in their position as planners regulators land owners or other type of decision making role to explore the role of ESS in enhancing rural urban synergies The purpose has been to ensure the balance between supply and demand of ESS seeking instruments and the governance models for public policy market and science and technology that will encourage alternative practices and policy integrated goals thus enabling resilience and social well being Ultimately the purpose has been to generate transition processes towards the recognition of socio ecological systems inclusive of new ESS based societal values leading rural urban synergies In other words such inclusive of socio ecological systems are seen as a condition for human well being Theoretical investigation in five core themes and its implementation in six different living laboratories form the more substantive content of this book In addition ESS is analysed in the context of its integration with other relevant themes in a cross sectoral perspective Overall the purpose of the book is to communicate the multiple and constructive roles played by ESS in rural urban synergies using multiple lenses looking particularly into challenges and merits and into different imaginative forms of making such as abstract concept more concrete operational and recognized by stakeholders in the field
