More Than Refuge Changing Responses To Domestic Violence:

Working with Domestic Violence Deborah Walsh, 2018-12-20 This textbook equips social workers and human services practitioners with the knowledge and skills to work effectively with both the victims and perpetrators of domestic violence. Written to address the needs of the social work and human services student learner, the book covers a range of domestic violence issues that will prepare the student for practice. With an underlying structural feminist conceptual framework that works towards empowering service users whilst challenging the structures that perpetuate violence, Working with Domestic Violence includes 18 chapters covering the broad spectrum of issues that arise from working with domestic violence. A clear practice framework for applying theoretical knowledge when working with individuals and families in domestic violence contexts. Practice tips, key facts, case examples, activities, and reflective questions designed to enhance the reader's engagement with the ideas, debates, and practice challenges introduced in the text. An extensive index and glossary to support student understanding of the material. A user-friendly and engaging style that will find application as an entire course book as well as for students or lecturers interested in selecting individual chapters for certain modules. Working with Domestic Violence is essential reading for students undertaking undergraduate and postgraduate coursework courses in social work and human services and those completing a postgraduate counselling qualification. The book will also be a valuable resource for students of community work, youth work, education, nursing, and other allied health courses, community services, disability, and welfare studies.

Policy and Social Work Practice Tony Evans, Frank Keating, 2015-11-10 Social policy is central to social work practice. This textbook is designed to help students, practitioners, and academics think critically about the relationship between policy and practice, particularly in how policy both structures and informs practice. Reflective questions help critical thinking and links to websites of substantive information across the UK and internationally help keep you up to date with policy developments. The authors' experience and skills in working with different service user groups combine to provide a constructive and critical approach to working with social policy in an era of welfare retrenchment. Key topics include discretion and practice, social work training and education, safeguarding children, responses to the needs of looked after children, personalization in adult care, race and welfare policy, domestic violence, mental health, and capacity, and comparing social work and social care internationally.

Family Violence and Criminal Justice Brian K. Payne, Randy R. Gainey, 2014-09-25 The historical context of family violence is explored, as well as the various forms of violence, their prevalence in specific stages of life, and responses to it made by the criminal justice system and other agencies. The linkage among child abuse, partner violence, and elder abuse is scrutinized, and the usefulness of the life course approach is couched in terms of its potential effect on policy implications. Research methods that recognize the importance of life stages, trajectories, and transitions, and crime causation theories that can be enhanced by it.
