Mormons And Their Historians:

Mormons and Their Historians Davis Bitton, Leonard J. Arrington, 1988      Writing Mormon History: Historians and Their Books Joseph Geisner, 2020 Every great book has a great backstory. Here well known historians describe their journeys of writing books that have influenced our understanding of the Mormon past offering an unprecedented glimpse into why they wrote these important works. Writing Mormon History is a must read for historians, students of history, scholars, and aspiring authors. The volume's contributors are Polly Aird, Will Bagley, Todd Compton, Brian Hales, Melvin Johnson, William MacKinnon, Linda King Newell, Gregory Prince, D. Michael Quinn, Craig Smith, George D. Smith, Vickie Cleverley Speek, Susan Staker, Daniel Stone, and John Turner. The majority of the essays appear here for the first time.      Reflections of a Mormon Historian Leonard J. Arrington, 2006 For more than a century the history of the American Frontier, particularly the West, has been the specialty of the Arthur H. Clark Company. We publish new books both interpretive and documentary in small, high-quality editions for the collector, researcher, and library.      The ^AMormon Image in the American Mind J.B. Haws, 2013-11-01 What do Americans think about Mormons and why do they think what they do? J.B. Haws reveals the dramatic transformation of American thought about Mormons over a period of forty years, showing how a surprising range of personalities, organizations, and events—the Osmonds, the Olympics, the Tabernacle Choir, Evangelical Christians, the Equal Rights Amendment, Sports Illustrated, and even Miss America—helped to shape the American public's understanding of Mormon history.      The Oxford Handbook of Mormonism Terryl Givens, Philip L. Barlow, 2015 For this handbook, Terryl Givens and Philip Barlow, two leading scholars of Mormonism, have brought together other top people in the field to construct a collection of essays that offers a comprehensive overview of scholarship on Mormons.      Excavating Mormon Past Newell C. Bringhurst, Lavina Fielding Anderson, 2004-08-31 Winner of the Special Book Award from the John Whitmer Historical Association. Excavating Mormon Past assembles sixteen knowledgeable scholars from both LDS and the Community of Christ traditions who have long participated skillfully in this dialogue. It presents their insightful and sometimes incisive surveys of where the New Mormon History has come from and which fields remain unexplored. It is both a vital reference work and a stimulating picture of the New Mormon History in the early twenty-first century.      Writing Mormon History 2 Joseph W. Geisner, 2024-11-11 Like its predecessor, Writing Mormon History, this book delves into the captivating narratives of multiple historians as they unfold the backstories of their various publishing endeavors. The authors detail their journeys in crafting influential books, articles, newspaper pieces, and anthologies that have significantly shaped our comprehension of Mormon history. Beyond the polished final products that readers typically encounter, the book explores the driving forces that compel authors to explore their topics and the sacrifices they make along the way. The volume invites readers to ponder the motivations that fuel an author's commitment to rigorous research and writing and sheds light on the substantial time ranging from minutes to long hours invested in the sources they cite. Through these narratives, readers gain an appreciation for the dedication and passion that goes into the making of historical scholarship Whether you re an avid historian a student of history a scholar or an aspiring author Writing Mormon History 2 offers an important glimpse into the minds of these writers This anthology provides a unique opportunity to connect with the human stories behind the academic works that have left an indelible mark on our understanding of Mormon history Mormon Historical Studies,2007 Mormon History

Ronald Warren Walker,David J. Whittaker,James B. Allen,2001 Adventures of a Church Historian Leonard J.

Arrington,1998 Adventures of a Church Historian details how Leonard J Arrington opened up archival resources and presided for a time over an unprecedeted era of enlightenment as he and those working under his aegis produced path breaking works of Mormon scholarship Arrington was the first professional historian and the first noncentral authority to serve as church historian of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Saints a position he held from 1972 to 1982 Arrington s church appointment came at a crucial point in LDS history when the institution was being transformed from a regional church whose ecclesiastical hierarchy directly presided over its congregants into a modern worldwide church with an elaborate bureaucracy His description of conducting research in the LDS Church Archives in the days of Elder Joseph Fielding Smith and Brother A Will Lund provides a rare glimpse into the inner workings of the LDS First Presidency and Quorum of the Twelve Apostles Riveting chapters on the actions of the controversial Historical Department reveal details of Arrington s release and replacement as the old system gave way to the new The Great Events by Famous Historians Charles Francis Horne,John Rudd,Rossiter Johnson,1905 The Mormons and Their Bible Martin Thomas Lamb,1903 Faithful History

George Dempster Smith,1992 Over the past decade Mormon history has undergone a transformation as LDS scholars have debated how their church s story should be written New Mormon Historians distinguish between what they believe is verifiable and what they suspect may be folklore and they approach history from a variety of different academic and social perspectives Mormonism has also become of interest to non LDS scholars This raises the question of whether outsiders can truly understand Mormons and conversely whether insiders can achieve enough detachment to see themselves objectively or whether this is even desirable Does history have an inherent meaning beyond the scholar s particular viewpoint and should a writer strive to understand another person s perspective or is one s own subjective vantage all that is possible and ultimately what is important The new Mormon traditionalists contend that objectivity is in fact impossible and that history is written with certain pre understandings also that some viewpoints are superior based on spiritual insight including a belief in God and in Joseph Smith as the prophet and that one should not impassively report examples of faith but should actively promote them In this compilation the editor has assembled sixteen essays which represent all sides of this ongoing discussion
