Moskva I Lermontov:

Lermontov's Narratives of Heroism Vladimir Golstein,1998 This is the first study of Russian writer Mikhail Lermontov 1814-41 that attempts to integrate the in depth interpretations of all his major texts including his famous A Hero of Our Time the novel that laid the foundation for the Russian psychological novel Lermontov's explorations of the virtues and limitations of heroic self-reliant conduct have subsequently become obscured or misread. This new book focuses upon the peculiar disturbing and arguably most central feature of Russian culture its suspicion of and hostility toward individual achievement and self assertion. The analysis and interpretation of Lermontov's texts enables Golstein to address broader cultural issues by exploring the reasons behind the persistent misreading of Lermontov's major works and by investigating the cultural attitudes that shaped Russia's reaction to the challenges of modernity

Ex-Soviets in Israel L. L. Fialkova, Maria N. Yelenevskaya,2007 A groundbreaking study of personal stories from ex-Soviet immigrants in Israel bringing together scholarship in anthropology, sociology, linguistics, semiotics, and social psychology. In the final years of the Soviet Union and into the 1990s Soviet Jews immigrated to Israel at an unprecedented rate, bringing about profound changes in Israeli society and the way immigrants understood their own identity. In this volume ex-Soviets in Israel reflect on their immigration experiences, allowing readers to explore this transitional cultural group directly through immigrants' thoughts, memories, and feelings rather than physical artifacts like magazines, films, or books. Drawing on their fieldwork as well as on analyses of the Russian language, Israeli media, and Internet forums, Larisa Fialkova and Maria N. Yelenevskaya present a collage of cultural and folk traditions from Slavic to Soviet, Jewish and Muslim to demonstrate that the mythology of Soviet Jews in Israel is still in the making. The authors begin by discussing their research strategies, explaining the sources used as material for the study and analyzing the demographic profile of the immigrants interviewed for the project. Chapters use immigrants' personal recollections to both find fragments of Jewish tradition that survived despite the assimilation policy in the USSR and show how traditional folk perception of the Other affected immigrants interaction with members of their receiving society The authors also investigate how immigrants perception of time and space affected their integration consider the mythology of Fate and Lucky Coincidences as a means of fighting immigrant stress examine folk linguistics and the role of the lay person s view of languages in the life of the immigrant community and analyze the transformation of folklore genres and images of the country of origin under new conditions As the biggest immigration wave from a single country in Israel s history the ex Soviet Jews make a fascinating case study for a variety of disciplines Ex Soviets in Israel will be of interest to scholars who work in Jewish and immigration studies modern folklore anthropology and sociolinguistics

M. Iu. Lermontov Walter N. Vickery,2001 Displaying his characteristic balance between sympathy and detachment Vickery has first provided a concise but richly detailed account of Lermontov s brief and tragic life His approach is above all sensible down to earth and fair Lermontov was a romantic really the only Russian poet who fully fits that designation Vickery understands very well the romantic ethos but he is no romantic him self He treats with tolerant but ironic amusement the adolescent posturing of Lermontov s early Byronism He is less tolerant of the frequent arrogance and even cruelty in Lermontov s behavior toward those close to him especially women On the other hand Vickery recognizes Lermontov s genuine longing for intimacy and affection and credits his capacity for friendship and generosity He also effectively traces all these conflicting im pulses in Lermontov s poetry
