Mostly Reel Memories:

Mostly Reel Memories Bill Barnett, Betty M. Bell, 1993 Memory Boxes Heta Aali, Anna-Leena Perämäki, Cathleen Sarti, 2014-07-15 This volume discusses a practical approach to cultural transfer and exchange through the concept of memory box Ideas of displacement transfer and cultural memory are explored through case studies from Scotland to Italy and Germany and from Finland and France to the American colonies The authors develop an understanding of memory boxes as cultural constructions that are involved in the process of making and disputing memory but which simultaneously are important agents for cultural transfer over space and time This book emphasises memory box as an idea that allows us to study the cultural processes of transfer in conjunction with cultural memory Histories, Memories and Representations of being Young in the First World War Maggie Andrews, N. C. Fleming, Marcus Morris, 2020-10-08 This book seeks to place children and young people centrally within the study of the contemporary British home front its cultural representations and its place in the historical memory of the First World War This edited collection interrogates not only war and its effects on children and young people but how understandings of this conflict have shaped or been shaped by historical memories of the Great War which have only allowed for several tropes of childhood during the conflict to emerge It brings together new research by emerging and established scholars who through a series of tightly focussed case studies introduce a range of new histories to both explore the experience of being young during the First World War and interrogate the memories and representations of the conflict produced for children Taken together the chapters in this volume shed light on the multiple ways in which the Great War shaped disrupted and interrupted childhood in Britain and illuminate simultaneously the selectivity of the portrayal of the conflict within the more typical national narratives Learning and Memory Darrell Rudmann, 2017-10-20 Learning and Memory provides students with a clear balanced and integrated presentation of major theoretical perspectives foundational to the study of human learning and memory Author Darrell Rudmann uses an engaging personal writing style appropriate for students with little or no previous background in psychology to discuss topics including the major behaviorism theories of learning modern cognitive theories of memory social learning theories the roles of emotion and motivation in learning and the well established neurological underpinnings of these perspectives A concluding chapter on learning and memory concepts in the real world shows students to how these concepts are applied in various industries from advertising to education and the media Semiconductor Memories Betty Prince, 1991 This handbook gives a complete overview to the design manufacture and application of semiconductor memory technology The move towards application specific memories and the new developments in memory applications including smart memories computers and networks are explored The author also details the new trends in memory architecture and functionality such as multiplexing video memory architecture and error correction For embedded memories there is an explanation of the advantages and disadvantages testing methods and reliability Detailed consideration is given to future trends in memories VLSI technology
