Karin Nielsen-Saines

Manet Olympia:

Manet, Olympia Theodore Reff, 1977 Olympia Otto Friedrich, 1993 In a delightfully different account of art and politics during the Second Empire Friedrich sketches a landscape that encompasses Napoleon III Flaubert Wagner Proust Degas Zola Monet Hugo Manet and many others both famous and infamous Photographs Manet Gilles Néret, 2003 This illustrated work takes a look at the wonderful world of post impressionism through the eyes of Manet 1832 1883 painter and graphic artist Manet Manette Carol M. Armstrong, Edouard Manet, 2002-01-01 Manet a founding father of modernism is one of the towering figures of 19th century art In this volume Carol Armstrong looks closely at Manet's works to uncover a view not only of the artist but also of modernity itself As she places his art within frameworks of colour the feminine Other the Manette in Manet and consumerism Armstrong seeks to expand and revise our understanding of this artist as a painter of modern life Manet's Modernism Michael Fried, 1996-07 Fried put forward a highly original beholder centered account of the evolution of a central tradition in French painting from Chardin to Courbet P 4 of cover Alias Olympia Eunice Lipton, 2013-02-15 Eunice Lipton was a fledgling art historian when she first became intrigued by Victorine Meurent the nineteenth century model who appeared in Edouard Manet's most famous paintings only to vanish from history in a haze of degrading hearsay But had this bold and spirited beauty really descended into prostitution drunkenness and early death or did her life hidden from history take a different course altogether Eunice Lipton's search for the answer combines the suspense of a detective story with the revelatory power of art peeling off layers of lies to reveal startling truths about Victorine Meurent and about Lipton herself Trauma and Visuality in Modernity Lisa Saltzman, Eric M. Rosenberg, 2006 Essays exploring the role of trauma in modern art Racism, Eh? Charmaine Nelson, Camille Antoinette Nelson, 2004 Racism Eh is the first publication that examines racism within the broad Canadian context This anthology brings together some of the visionaries who are seeking to illuminate the topics of race and racism in Canada through the analysis of historical and contemporary issues which address race and racism as both material and psychic phenomena Fundamentally interdisciplinary in nature this text will be an invaluable resource for undergraduate and graduate students academics studying or practicing within the Humanities and the Social Sciences and anyone seeking information on what has been a little explored and poorly understood Canadian issue pub desc Racechanges Susan Gubar, 2000-04-20 When the actor Ted Danson appeared in blackface at a 1993 Friars Club roast he ignited a firestorm of protest that landed him on the front pages of the newspapers rebuked by everyone from talk show host Montel Williams to New York City's then mayor David Dinkins Danson's use of blackface was shocking but was the furious pitch of the response a triumphant indication of how far society has progressed since the days when blackface performers were the toast of vaudeville or was it also an uncomfortable reminder of how deep the chasm still is separating black and white America In Racechanges White Skin Black Face in American Culture Susan Gubar who fundamentally changed the way we think about women's literature as co author of the acclaimed The Madwoman in the Attic turns her attention to the incendiary issue of race. Through a far reaching exploration of the long overlooked legacy of minstrelsy, cross racial impersonations or racechanges throughout modern American film, fiction, poetry, painting, photography and journalism, she documents the indebtedness of mainstream artists to African American culture and explores the deeply conflicted psychology of white guilt. The fascinating racechanges Gubar discusses include whites posing as blacks and blacks passing for white, blackface on white actors in The Jazz Singer, Birth of a Nation and other movies as well as on the faces of black stage entertainers. African American deployment of racechange imagery during the Harlem Renaissance including the poetry of Anne Spencer, the black and white prints of Richard Bruce Nugent and the early work of Zora Neale Hurston, white poets and novelists from Vachel Lindsay and Gertrude Stein to John Berryman and William Faulkner writing as if they were black, white artists and writers fascinated by hypersexualized stereotypes of black men and nightmares and visions of the racechanged baby. Gubar shows that unlike African Americans who often are forced to adopt white masks to gain their rights, white people have chosen racial masquerades which range from mockery and mimicry to an evolving emphasis on inter racial mutuality and mutability. Drawing on a stunning array of illustrations including paintings, film stills, computer graphics and even magazine morphings, Racechanges sheds new light on the persistent pervasiveness of racism and exciting aesthetic possibilities for lessening the distance between blacks and whites.

Manet and the Family Romance Nancy Locke, 2001. Édouard Manet's paintings have long been recognized for being visually compelling and uniquely recalcitrant. While critics have noted the presence of family members and intimates in paintings such as Le Déjeuner sur l'herbe, Nancy Locke takes an unprecedented look at the significance of the artist's family relationships for his art. Locke argues that a kind of mythology of the family or Freudian family romance frequently structures Manet's compositional decisions and choice of models. By looking at the representation of the family as a volatile mechanism for the development of sexuality and of repression, conflict and desire, Locke brings powerful new interpretations to some of Manet's most complex works. Locke considers, for example, the impact of a father-son drama rooted in a closely guarded family secret: the adultery of Manet's father and the status of Léon Leenhoff. Her nuanced exploration of the implications of this story that Manet, in fact, married his father's mistress makes us look afresh at even well known paintings such as Olympia. This book sheds new light on Manet's infamous interest in gypsies, street musicians and itinerants as Locke analyzes the activities of Manet's father as a civil judge. She also reexamines the close friendship between Manet and the Impressionist painter Berthe Morisot, who married Manet's brother. Morisot becomes the subject of a series of meditations on the elusiveness of the self, the transience of identity and conflicting concerns with appearances and respectability. Manet and the Family Romance offers an entirely new set of arguments about the cultural forces that shaped these alluring paintings.

Figures of Ill Repute Charles Bernheimer, 1997. Ubiquitous in the streets and brothels of nineteenth century Paris, the prostitute was even more so in the novels and paintings of the time. Charles Bernheimer discusses how these representations of the sexually available woman express male ambivalence about desire money class and the body Interweaving close textual analysis with historical anecdote and theoretical speculation Bernheimer demonstrates how the formal properties of art can serve strategically to control anxious fantasies about female sexual power Drawing on methods derived from cultural studies psychoanalysis social history feminist theory and narrative analysis this interdisciplinary classic available now for the first time in paperback was awarded Honorable Mention in 1990 for the James Russell Lowell prize awarded by the Modern Language Association for the best book of criticism
