A VISIONARY IMPRESSIONIST

An impressionist painting of two men in a boat. The man on the left wears a dark beret and a light-colored, striped shirt, looking towards the viewer. The man on the right wears a straw hat with a red band and a striped shirt, looking down at something in his hands. The background shows a harbor with several boats and buildings in the distance under a hazy sky.

Ce livre se veut le pionnier d'un champ d'études encore aujourd'hui relativement inexploré tandis que les publications transatlantiques autour de la question de literary impressionism sont assez nombreuses depuis le début du XXI<sup>e</sup> siècle. L'approche choisie est volontairement clectique et polymorphologique. L'impressionniste est au cœur de l'analyse. Ainsi les changements artistiques entre peintres et écrivains constituent-ils une manière de saisir ce qui au point de contact entre texte et image permet la naissance de l'idéologie de l'impressionnisme littéraire. Du côté de la peinture, Manet et Degas ont la part belle tandis que tous les genres littéraires de l'époque sont considérés par le biais d'auteurs aussi différents que Zola, Mallarmé, Goncourt, Verlaine, Bourget, Huysmans, Rimbaud et Daudet. Painting and Sculpture in Europe, 1780 to 1800 Fritz Novotny, 1960 The Impressionists Martha Kapos, 1991 A group of young artists in 1874 in opposition to the established authority of the Salon and the Academy decided to show their work directly to the public in an exhibition which they organized themselves. The artists forming the core of this group, Pissarro, Degas, Sisley, Cézanne, Monet, Renoir and Morisot, came to be known as the Impressionists. Seen to be following the independent spirit of Manet, they were immediately identified as the avant-garde and their first exhibition became an historic landmark in the development of modern art. We now tend to see the landscapes of Impressionist paintings as perfect images of nature. It is easy to overlook their startling and fragmented appearance at the time they were painted. The documents in this book show how the paintings looked to contemporary eyes to both the critics and the artists. Some of the criticism these paintings received is almost as famous as the works themselves and several important documents appear here in English translation for the first time. The book tells the story of the personal struggles, debates, problems and solutions involved in a new way of painting that quickly led in unforeseen directions and took enormous risks with the traditional means of representing the world in art. These experiences are revealed in the letters and recorded comments of the artists themselves and in the writings of friends and contemporary critics, many of whom such as Baudelaire, Zola, Valéry, Mallarmé, Huysmans, Laforgue and Mirbeau, were also novelists and poets. The continuing interpretation of Impressionism within the changing art and art criticism of the twentieth century is examined through the writings of artists such as Léger, Kandinsky, Masson, Matisse and Hofmann, as well as recent critics, philosophers and art historians including Meyer, Schapiro, Gaston, Bachelard, Clement, Greenberg and Lawrence Gowing. The text is illustrated with 116 colour plates and 117 black and white reproductions of photographs, documents and contemporary cartoons, prints and drawings.
