Franklin,2017-09-01 Drawing upon his personal experience as a practitioner researcher visual artist and cancer survivor Michael A Franklin offers a rich and thought provoking guide to art as contemplative practice His firsthand experience and original artwork complement this extensive discussion by consulting various practice traditions including yoga rasa and darshan experiences imaginal intelligence and the contemplative instincts of select early twentieth century artists From this synthesis Franklin suggests that we treat art as a form of yoga and meditation with the potential to awaken deeper insight into the fundamental nature of the Self Exercises and rubrics are included that offer accessible instruction for any artist meditation or yoga practitioner art educator or art therapist      Art Therapy and the Neuroscience of Relationships, Creativity, and Resiliency Noah Hass-Cohen,Joanna Clyde Findlay,2015-07-06 Presenting a neuroscientifically aware approach to art therapy Art Therapy and the Neuroscience of Relationships Creativity and Resiliency offers a comprehensive integration of art therapy and interpersonal neurobiology It showcases the Art Therapy Relational Neuroscience ATR N theoretical and clinical approach and demonstrates how it can be used to help clients with autobiographical memory reflecting and creating touch and space meaning making emotions and dealing with long term stress and trauma The ATR N approach first developed by Noah Hass Cohen is comprised of six principles Creative Embodiment Relational Resonating Expressive Communicating Adaptive Responding Transformative Integrating and Empathizing and Compassion CREATE The chapters in this book are organized around these CREATE principles demonstrating the dynamic interplay of brain and bodily systems during art therapy Each chapter begins with an overview of one CREATE principle which is then richly illustrated with therapeutic artwork and intrapersonal reflections The subsequent discussion of the related relational neuroscience elucidates how the ATR N work is grounded in research and evidence based theory The last section of each chapter which is devoted to clinical skills and applications integrates practices and approaches across all six of the CREATE principles demonstrating how therapeutic art making can help people decipher the functional mystery of their relational nervous system enhance their emotive and cognitive abilities and increase the motivation to learn novel concepts and participate in a meaningful social discourse Art Therapy ,2004 Neuro Adventure: Autism, Art, and the Brain Elisabete Castelon Konkiewitz,Edward B. Ziff,2019-04-22 This book gives a basic and broad but innovative view of autism It seeks to rupture stereotypes and stigmas and starts with the story and paintings of the artist Camila Falchi who has an Autism Spectrum Disorder ASD Camila s art is evidence of the complexity of her internal world and its variety of themes intensity of feelings daydreaming fantasy and dreams This complexity compels us to question and rethink our perceptions of the autism spectrum the mind and creativity As a neurologist and a neuroscientist our goal with this book is to disseminate knowledge about autism its characteristics and potentials by means of the example of this artist Handbook for the Emerging Woman Mary Elizabeth Marlow,1993 The author identifies ten processes through which every woman must eventually pass and shows with funny poignant and real life explanations how to overcome self imposed limitations in order to claim inner authority Metaphysics Book of This Place Deborah J. Haynes,2009-09-01 The title of this engaging work emphasizes that the author lives works and creates art in this place a particular site in the foothills of the Colorado Rocky Mountains The subtitle indicates that place is the arena for investigating engagement with the land and nature art and creativity and spiritual life By exploring the significance of place in our fragmented world and by using her artistic practice as an example the author hopes to offer readers new definitions of the interrelationship of religion and art Haynes is the first to examine the intersection of these three themes which may be variously defined First the land and nature provide the literal site for the book and the language of ecology is woven throughout In the face of contemporary global crises Haynes believes that we have a moral imperative to address how we live and work in the physical environment

Second visual art creativity and the creative process are discussed using historical and contemporary examples Haynes is a philosopher of art and an artist whose primary creative work involves carving marble and drawing Using her stone sculptures to frame the book's chapters she takes readers on a meandering journey into the history philosophy and practice of art Third the religious and spiritual life is highlighted with examples from both her practice of yoga and Buddhist meditation as well as from her work with hospice patients
