Mangolian Connection:

Japanese-Mongolian Relations, 1873-1945 James Boyd, 2010-12-17 This book offers the first in depth examination of Japanese Mongolian relations from the late nineteenth century through to the middle of the twentieth century and in the process repositions Mongolia in Sino Japanese and Russo Japanese relations Beginning in 1873 with the intrepid journey to Mongolia by a group of Buddhist monks from one of Kyoto's largest orders the relationship later included groups and individuals from across Japanese society with representatives from the military academia business and the bureaucracy Throughout the book the interplay between these various groups is examined in depth arguing that to restrict Japan's relationship with Mongolia to merely the strategic and as an adjunct to Manchuria as has been done in other works neglects important facets of the relationship including the cultural religious and economic It does not however ignore the strategic importance of Mongolia to the Japanese military The author considers the cultural diplomacy of the Zenrin ky kai a Japanese quasi governmental humanitarian organization whose activities in inner Mongolia in the 1930s and 1940s have been almost completely ignored in earlier studies and whose operations suggest that Japanese Mongolian relations are quite distinct from other Asian peoples Accordingly the book makes a major contribution to our understanding of Japanese activities in a part of Asia that figured prominently in pre war and wartime Japanese strategic and cultural thinking

Campi, Jagannath Panda, 2021-08-26 This book assesses Mongolia's position in the security calculus of Northeast Asia and presents the policy outlooks of major powers vis a vis the region including the United States Japan China Russia and India Ground breaking and modernistic in its approach the book treats the often marginalised and landlocked small power state of Mongolia as a critical regional actor particularly with regards to managing ties with encircling major powers Russia and China and assist in engaging the nuclear state of North Korea through dialogue mechanisms This compilation of chapters by distinguished scholars explores Mongolia in the Northeast Asian geographical space within the context of three major themes nuclear proliferation environmental security and socio economic and civilisational conflicts The book provides a multidisciplinary and multinational approach to Mongolia's role in the region's strategic landscape It moves the regional security discussion beyond major power politics North Korea's denuclearisation and the impasse on the Korean Peninsula to discuss and analyse other underappreciated challenges facing the region Considering Mongolia's role in achieving peace and stability in the neighbourhood the book will be a valuable resource for researchers and readers in International Relations Political Science and Asian Studies MONGOLIAN LANGUAGE HANDBOOK.
