"Soviet Anti-semitism" Hyman Lumer,1964 Great Russians on the Jewish Question J. Kurk,1916 Hannah Arendt And The Jewish Question Richard J. Bernstein,1996-07-11 Hannah Arendt 1906 1975 was one of the most original and interesting political thinkers of the twentieth century In this new interpretation of her career philosopher Richard Bernstein situates Arendt historically as an engaged Jewish intellectual and explores the range of her thinking from the perspective of her continuing confrontation with the Jewish question Bernstein argues that many themes that emerged in the course of Arendt's attempts to understand specifically Jewish issues shaped her thinking about politics in general and the life of the mind By exploring pivotal events of her life story her arrest and subsequent emigration from Germany in 1933 her precarious existence in Paris as a stateless Jew working for Zionist organizations her internment at Gurs and her subsequent escape and finally her flight from Europe in 1941 he shows how personal experiences and her responses to them oriented her thinking Arendt's analysis of the Jews lack of preparation for the vicious political anti-Semitism that arose in the last decade of the nineteenth century Bernstein argues led her on a quest for the ultimate meaning of politics and political responsibility Moreover he points out that Arendt's deepest insights about politics emerged from her reflections on statelessness and totalitarian domination Bernstein also examines Arendt's attraction to and break with Zionism and the reasons for her critical stance toward a Jewish sovereign state. He then turns to the issue that in Arendt's opinion needed most to be confronted in the aftermath of World War II: the fundamental nature of evil. He traces the nuances of her thinking from radical evil to the banality of evil and finally reexamines Eichmann in Jerusalem, her meditation on evil that caused a storm of protest and led some to question her loyalty to the Jewish people.

The Jewish Tribune, 1920 The Judæans Judæans (Organization), 1899 Blacks in the Jewish Mind Seth Forman, 2000-10

Since the 1960s the relationship between Blacks and Jews has been a contentious one. While others have attempted to explain or repair the break up of the Jewish alliance on civil rights, Seth Forman here sets out to determine what Jewish thinking on the subject of Black Americans reveals about Jewish identity in the U.S. Why did American Jews get involved in Black causes in the first place? What did they have to gain from it? And what does that tell us about American Jews? In an extremely provocative analysis, Forman argues that the commitment of American Jews to liberalism and their historic definition of themselves as victims has caused them to behave in ways that were defined as good for Blacks but which in essence were contrary to Jewish interests. They have not been able to dissociate their needs religious, spiritual, communal, political from those of African Americans and have therefore acted in ways which have threatened their own cultural vitality. Avoiding the focus on Black victimization and white racism that often infuses work on Blacks and Jews, Forman emphasizes the complexities inherent in one distinct white ethnic group's involvement in America's racial dilemma.

Imbalance in Jewish-Christian Relations?
