Neglected Genius Diaries:

Neglected Genius John Jolliffe, 2012-04-17 The journal of Benjamin Haydon was Max Beerbohm reported to Siegfried Sassoon the best diary Beerbohm had ever read Harold Acton declared Haydon a more exciting figure than Ruskin H H Asquith compared him favourably with Rousseau while Aldous Huxley declared that Never was anyone more clearly cut out to be an author Today Haydon's portraits and monumental historical paintings hang in almost all Britain's major collections However in his own time 1786-1846 his reputation was less secure Although an intimate of Wordsworth and Walter Scott on friendly terms with lords and politicians Haydon was also well acquainted with debtor's prison Still he remained throughout a witty brilliant diarist vividly evidenced by this volume expertly edited by John Jolliffe which gathers opinions on everything from the Elgin Marbles and Turner's landscapes to Napoleon's digestion and Queen Victoria's complexion A Companion to Literary Biography Richard Bradford, 2018-09-12 An authoritative review of literary biography covering the seventeenth century to the twentieth century A Companion to Literary Biography offers a comprehensive account of literary biography spanning the history of the genre across three centuries The editor an esteemed literary biographer and noted expert in the field has encouraged contributors to explore the theoretical and methodological questions raised by the writing of biographies of writers The text examines how biographers have dealt with the lives of classic authors from Chaucer to contemporary figures such as Kingsley Amis The Companion brings a new perspective on how literary biography enables the reader to deal with the relationship between the writer and their work Literary biography is the most popular form of writing about writing yet it has been largely neglected in the academic community This volume bridges the gap between literary biography as a popular genre and its relevance for the academic study of literature This important work Allows the author of a biography to be treated as part of the process of interpretation and investigates biographical reading as an important aspect of criticism Examines the birth of literary biography at the close of the seventeenth century and considers its expansion through the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries Addresses the status and writing of literary biography from numerous perspectives and with regard to various sources methodologies and theories Reviews the ways in which literary biography has played a role in our perception of writers in the mainstream of the English canon from Chaucer to the present day Written for students at the undergraduate level through postgraduate and doctoral levels as well as academics A Companion to Literary Biography illustrates and accounts for the importance of the literary biography as a vital element of criticism and as an index to our perception of literary history Virginia Woolf's Modernist Path Barbara Lounsberry, 2019-02-04 Choice Outstanding Academic Title In this second volume of her acclaimed study of Virginia Woolf's diaries Barbara Lounsberry traces the English writer's life through the thirteen diaries she kept from 1918 to 1929 what is often considered Woolf's modernist golden age During these interwar years Woolf penned many of her most famous works including Mrs Dalloway To the Lighthouse Orlando and A Room of One's Own Lounsberry shows how Woolf's writing at this time was influenced by other diarists Anton Chekhov Katherine Mansfield Jonathan Swift and Stendhal among them and how she continued to use her diaries as a way to experiment with form and as a practice ground for her evolving modernist style Through close readings of Woolf's journaling style and an examination of the diaries she read Lounsbury tracks Woolf's development as a writer and unearths new connections between her professional writing personal writing and the diaries she was reading at the time Virginia Woolf's Modernist Path offers a new approach to Woolf's biography her life as she marked it in her diary from ages 36 to 46
