Neglected Policies:

The Importance of Neglect in Policy-Making Michiel S. de Vries, 2010-01-13 De Vries argues that it is possible to explain when and in what direction policy change is likely to occur He argues that what is neglected at present is likely to become dominant in policies of the near future With the birth of a new policy generation a convergence towards meeting the dominant value of that generation will become evident New Directions in Child Abuse and Neglect Research National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Committee on Law and Justice, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on Child Maltreatment Research, Policy, and Practice for the Next Decade: Phase II, 2014-04-25 Each year child protective services receive reports of child abuse and neglect involving six million children and many more go unreported The long term human and fiscal consequences of child abuse and neglect are not relegated to the victims themselves they also impact their families future relationships and society In 1993 the National Research Council NRC issued the report Understanding Child Abuse and Neglect which provided an overview of the research on child abuse and neglect New Directions in Child Abuse and Neglect Research updates the 1993 report and provides new recommendations to respond to this public health challenge According to this report while there has been great progress in child abuse and neglect research a coordinated national research infrastructure with high level federal support needs to be established and implemented immediately New Directions in Child Abuse and Neglect Research recommends an actionable framework to guide and support future child abuse and neglect research This report calls for a comprehensive multidisciplinary approach to child abuse and neglect research that examines factors related to both children and adults across physical mental and behavioral health domains including those in child welfare economic support criminal justice education and health care systems and assesses the needs of a variety of subpopulations It should also clarify the causal pathways related to child abuse and neglect and more importantly assess efforts to interrupt these pathways New Directions in Child Abuse and Neglect Research identifies four areas to look to in developing a coordinated research enterprise a national strategic plan a national surveillance system a new generation of researchers and changes in the federal and state programmatic and policy response Child Abuse and Neglect United States.
