Negotiating In Asia:

Successfully Negotiating in Asia Patrick Kim Cheng Low, 2010-01-15 Successful negotiation requires a close understanding of their partner's culture, their feelings, habits and values. When planning to do business with suppliers and other partners in Asia, a thorough preparation is essential to avoid misunderstandings, confrontations and disappointments and to ensure the mutually desired success. This book presents a complete communication and negotiation skills program with special focus on negotiation partners from the different regions of the Asian continent. Readers learn to negotiate the Chinese, the Indian or the Japanese way and they learn to understand the ways Asians negotiate. Written by a cross border author, both academician and practitioner with plenty of experience from Eastern and Western cultures, this book is a valuable resource for anyone relying on business success with Asian partners. Negotiating in Asia Robert Charles Azar, 2018-10-29 East and West, different languages, different cultures and different expectations in business and negotiating. When purpose, approach, goal and priorities differ in the negotiation process, challenges are given. Robert Azar uses his four decades of first hand Asian business experience not only to clearly define these areas of East-West differences and relate them to deeper cultural insight but also to provide proven practical methods to arrive at optimal negotiation solutions for maximum success. This book is chock full of insight, practical information and case examples for any person, experienced or novice, conducting business in Asia markets. Successfully Negotiating in Asia Kim Cheng Patrick Low, 2020-09-28 Successful negotiation requires understanding your counterpart's culture, their feelings, habits and values. When planning to do business with suppliers and other partners in Asia, thorough preparation is essential in order to avoid misunderstandings, confrontations and disappointments and to ensure the mutually desired success. This book offers a comprehensive guide to communication, argumentation and negotiation by demonstrating success pathways with a focus on specific types of negotiator or negotiation partner from the different regions of the Asian continent. Readers will learn to negotiate the Chinese, the Indian and the Japanese way and come to understand how Asians approach negotiations. Written by a truly international author, both academic and practitioner with extensive experience in both Eastern and Western cultures, this book offers a valuable resource for anyone who relies on successfully negotiating with Asian partners. Negotiating Financial Agreement in East Asia Kaewkamol Karen Pitakdumrongkit, 2015-10-30 Every international negotiation bears a risk of collapse as even among like-minded countries, different players often have different priorities and interests. This can result in conflict as states clash over certain agreement details and their disputes can escalate and founder the entire negotiation, missing an opportunity to realize potential initiatives. However, other circumstances have witnessed the cases of successful deals. This begets a puzzle: What did these states do to salvage their talks and seal their deals? This book examines East Asian financial negotiation processes and seeks to explain why some negotiations are successful despite the risk of bargaining failure. Using the Chiang Mai Initiative Multilateralization (CMIM) talks as the case study, the book analyses how states with little prior experience at dealing with certain aspects of an agreement manage to avert negotiation failure and successfully conclude their final deal Using extensive archival research in depth interviews with involved negotiators and experts and process tracing method it reconstructs the making of the CMIM agreement The multi country analysis reveals the roles played by key actors namely China Japan South Korea Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand in shaping the agreement terms The book goes on to argue that preventing a stalemate or succeeding in concluding arrangements like the CMIM is a product of various strategies and tactics employed by negotiators These include employing bargaining strategies and tactics that help avoid a negotiation deadlock and assessing the conditions under which such strategies and tactics are likely or unlikely to achieve the objective of avoiding bargaining failure As a study of East Asian economic negotiation processes this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of East Asian cooperation and regionalism as well as finance international business international relations and international political economy Negotiating in Asia, 1996

Negotiating Asymmetry Anthony Reid, Yangwen Zheng, 2009-11-30 Though wary of China's rapid rise her neighbors have considerable experience of dealing with unequal power without surrendering their autonomy For its part China has a long memory of unequal or tributary relations and a relatively brief and turbulent experience of working within the current useful fiction of sovereign equality in international relations The emerging pattern will have to take account of the great discrepancy in economic and military power between the future China and her neighbours and of how such asymmetry can be managed peacefully Negotiating Asymmetry explores how the real or imagined norms governing past relations may shape China's future position in the region by considering how relationships have changed over the past two centuries The volume argues that neither the Chinese world order of tribute relations nor the Westphalia model of sovereign equality ever operated effectively in Asia but suggests that the past does offer strong indicators about the shape of a new order in Asia

Negotiating Globalization in Asia Ateneo Center for Asian Studies, 2006 The Trans Pacific Partnership, China and India Amitendu Palit, 2014-06-05 The United States and 11 other countries from both sides of the Pacific are currently negotiating the Trans Pacific Partnership TPP The agreement is expected to set new benchmark for international trade through its comprehensive coverage of issues and binding regulations It is expected to eventually mature into a regional trade agreement covering the entire Asia Pacific As of now it does not include China and India the two largest emerging markets and regional economies The TPP has generated controversy for its excessive emphasis on trade issues which have remained unresolved or unaddressed at the WTO due to differences between developed and emerging markets It has also been criticized for adopting a negotiating style reflecting the US regulatory approach to international trade and also as a geo political strategy of the US for supporting its strategic rebalancing towards Asia From both economic and geo political perspectives the TPP has various significant implications for China and India that are examined in the book This book sheds light on how China and India's entries in the TPP are mutually beneficial and how both countries can gain from the TPP by gaining preferential access to large markets and using it as an opportunity for introducing more outward oriented reforms The book also cautions that US must reconcile to the rebalancing of economic power within the grouping that will occur following the entries of China and India Otherwise the TPP and China and India might walk divergent paths and trade and regional integration in Asia Pacific may not ever converge This book will interest anyone who wishes to learn more about the TPP and its future implications and challenges and China and India s roles in global and regional trade ASEAN

Negotiations Pushpa Thambipillai, Jayaratnam Saravanamuttu, 1985 The first part of this book looks at ASEAN negotiating styles the second examines ASEAN s position on collective negotiations with the Third World Countries and blocs on North South questions for a common front approach on the New International Economic Order This book is one of six in the ASEAN Political Studies series

Cultural Essentialism in Intercultural Relations Fred Dervin, Regis Machart, 2016-04-29 The concept of culture has long been criticized with many scholars reformulating it or discarding it entirely The field of intercultural communication and relations however still relies on culture to examine interculturality and this volume provides a comprehensive examination of the problems that the concept poses today Asian Sources Timepieces, 1995 Asian Migrations Beatriz P.

Lorente, 2005 The migration of people within and beyond Asia no longer takes the form of permanent ruptures uprooting and resettlement Today such movement is more likely to be transient and complex ridden with disruptions and detours and based on translocal interconnections between places and multiple chains of movement Written from various disciplinary perspectives this collection of essays explores the migration experiences of a wide spectrum of people from professional and managerial elites to contract workers and refugees In addressing the nature of these Asian migrations the authors demonstrate how mobility in today's world has transformed notions of citizenship and identity and of displacement and home

(Re)Negotiating East and Southeast Asia Alice D. Ba, 2009-03-26 This book seeks to explain two core paradoxes associated with the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN How have diverse states hung together and stabilized relations in the face of competing interests divergent preferences and arguably weak cooperation How has a group of lesser self identified Southeast Asian powers gone beyond its original regional purview to shape the form and content of Asian Pacific and East Asian regionalisms According to Alice Ba the answers lie in ASEAN's founding arguments arguments that were premised on an assumed regional disunity She demonstrates how these arguments draw critical causal connections that make Southeast Asian regionalism a necessary response to problems give rise to its defining informality and consensus seeking process and also constrain ASEAN's regionalism Tracing debates about ASEAN's intra and extra regional relations over four decades she argues for a process driven view of cooperation sheds light on intervening processes of argument and debate and highlights interacting material ideational and social forces in the construction of regions and regionalisms
