Nerli An Italian Painter In The South Pacific:

Nerli Michael Dunn, 2005 Nerli An Italian Painter in the South Pacific is the first major study of the Italian painter Girolamo Pieri Nerli who spent the last two decades of the nineteenth century in Australia and New Zealand and is best known as a teacher of Frances Hodgkins. Nerli painted a wide range of subjects in a wide range of styles and is associated with the introduction of impressionism to the antipodes. Though he returned to Italy his most important work which shows an appealing liveliness with paint was done in the South Pacific and most of it remains here. His best paintings full of colour and warmth often with attractive human subjects have continuing appeal and relevance to both Australia and New Zealand at an important turning point in their cultures. Nerli includes an introductory text of two chapters the first on Nerli's life and personality the second on his painting accompanied by black and white photographs and reproductions setting the context and evoking the era. This is followed by 40 full page full colour reproductions of the most important paintings each with commentary on the facing page. The book also features a chronology a bibliography an appendix reproducing some vivid letters written by Nerli and his wife and a list of exhibitions.

The Pacific Room Michael Fitzgerald, 2017-07-01 Do I look strange. These were his last recorded words. That night Sosimo kissed his hands and laid them across his breast knitting his fingers together like flowers. The next morning the household watched his coffin held aloft by a dozen brown hands disappear into an ocean of leaves. Every now and then at a turn of the mountain it would emerge from the trees bobbing higher and higher floating free. This remarkable debut novel tells of the last days of Tusitala the teller of tales as Robert Louis Stevenson became known in Samoa where he chose to die. In 1892 Girolamo Nerli travels from Sydney by steamer to Apia with the intention of capturing something of Jekyll and Hyde in his portrait of the famous author. Nerli's presence sets in train a disturbing sequence of events. More than a century later art historian Lewis Wakefield comes to Samoa to research the painting of Tusitala's portrait by the long forgotten Italian artist. On hiatus from his bipolar medication Lewis is freed to confront the powerful reality of all the desires and demons that R L Stevenson couldn't control. Lewis's personal journey is shadowed by the story of the lovable Teuila a so called fa'afafine in the manner of a woman and the spirit of Stevenson's servant boy Sosimo. Set in an evocative tropical landscape haunted by the lives and spirits which drift across it The Pacific Room is both a love letter to Samoa and a lush and tender exploration of artistic creation of secret passions and merging dualities.
