Problem-solving and Bargaining in International Negotiations Lynn M. Wagner,2008 International Negotiation Series 5 International Studies Library 8 Many analysts

theorize that negotiation processes determine negotiated outcomes but none have empirically tested this hypothesis across multiple cases of international negotiation. This book examines the process outcome relationship in thirteen bilateral and multilateral negotiations involving the United States. Declassified reports from U.S. negotiators about discussions with their counterparts provide the primary data source through which the author constructs the case studies and performs a content analysis of negotiator statements to compare process and outcome. The book seeks to advance our understanding of the relationship between negotiation process and outcome as well as to provide empirically based guidance for decision makers when selecting a negotiating approach.
